Expect Committee To OK Jobless Aid

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A billion-dollar program of emergency help for the long-time unemployed, President Kennedy's No. 1 legislative project, apparently was set today for prompt approval by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Democratic leaders were hoping to bring it to a vote early next week and make it the first of the new adminstration's 16 priority measures to win House approval.

Other items on this priority list, announced by the White House Tuesday, also moved up a notch or two:

A companion bill, for benefits to children of the unemployed, was being put into shape for Ways and Means approval with or just after the unemployment payment extension.

The House Banking Committee set hearings Friday on a multi-million-dollar program of loans and grants to help pull chronically depressed areas out of their slumps. Senate hearings on a similar measure are almost finished.

The Senate Labor subcommittee announced hearings on the administration bill to increase the minimum wage by stages to $1.25 an hour. These will begin Tuesday and are expected to be held to four days. A corresponding House subcommittee ended hearings Tuesday and set a target of March 2 to complete work on a bill.

A concession by administration forces on the unemployment insurance extension bill smoothed the way for Ways and Means approval and, sponsors said, assured prompt House passage.

The estimated $990 million required to extend payments up to 13 weeks maximum would be repaid by a temporary, two-year increase in the unemployment insurance tax, rather than by a permanent extension in the wage base of the tax, as Kennedy proposed.

The tax, now paid by employers at the rate of 3.1 per cent on a $3,000 wage base, would go up to as much as 3.5 per cent—but for two years only—under the plan tentatively agreed to by the Ways and Means Committee.

Unemployed who exhausted their basic benefits after June 30, 1960, would receive the extra payments.

Make Tentative Pact In 5-Week Printers Strike

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)— Union and management negotiators, meeting with a federal mediator, reached a tentative agreement Tuesday night in a five-week-old strike of printers at the Southern Illinoisan.

The agreement is subject to ratification tonight by 16 striking members of the International Typographical Union, Local 217.

Negotiators worked until late Tuesday night with federal mediator Edward Windes of Evansville, Ind. The new contract approved by negotiators calls for a one-year agreement with a 40-hour work week and a 15-cent hourly wage increase retroactive to Nov. 1.

Base pay under the previous contract was $2.50 an hour. The new contract also calls for an additional day off in the event a paid holiday falls on a normal day off, a major union demand.

The union also had sought a work week of less than 40 hours. Another provision of the new contract is 40 instead of 20 days sick leave.

The newspaper is a member of the Lindsay-Schuab group which publishes newspapers in Decatur, East St. Louis and Champaign-Urbana.

A newspaper spokesman said if the contract is ratified, publication will resume Sunday. Editorial employes continued working during the strike, gathering news for radio broadcasts sponsored by the newspaper.

Illinois Senate OKs Aid

Alert House For Action

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois Senate today passed 46-0 without debate a $67.3 million emergency appropriation to tide the Illinois Public Aid Commission programs over until the end of the biennium.

Demands on the program had risen in recent months because of unemployment.

Gov. Otto Kerner had asked quick action. The House was alerted to be in readiness to receive the bill and to help speed it toward final legislative approval next week.

Peter Cahill, IPAC executive secretary, told the Senate Tuesday that poor relief and other payments would be exhausted March 3 unless more money was provided before then.

Cahill said the primary reason for the deficiency appropriation is rising unemployment. About 115,000 were on poor relief rolls the first of the year, he said.

The new appropriation would raise the total amount for public aid to $486 million during the two-year budget period ending June 30. The IPAC plans to request $590 million in the two-year budget.

Sen. W. Russell Arrington, R-Evanston, challenged Cahill's statement that a re-application of reliefers — required last summer to determine eligibility — reduced the rolls by only 200 cases.

Arrington said decreases of 6,000 cases occurred in both June and July and 1,000 in September.

In another hearing, Dr. Francis Gerty, state welfare director, told the Senate that Illinois needs about six new institutions to take care of the mentally retarded persons.

Gerty testified on bills appropriating $4.1 million for an institution at Harrisburg.

Even if the state constructs institutions at Harrisburg and Centralia, Gerty said, there still would be a waiting list of 700 to 800 mentally retarded cases. The two institutions are proposed in pending bills.

Gerty said a school for the mentally retarded should be located in northeastern Illinois near Chicago, and others perhaps near Galesburg and East St. Louis.

Airline Engineers Take Poll

CONSIDER KENNEDY BACK-TO-WORK PLEA

By PIERCE LEHMBECK

NEW YORK (AP)— Flight engineers whose strike has entangled the nation in its worst airline tieup in history announce their decision today on whether they will bow to a return-to-work plea from President Kennedy.

The Flight Engineers International Association began polling its 3,500 members Tuesday night after Kennedy set up a three-member commission and asked the engineers to end their walkout while it studied the dispute.

The commission's powers will be only advisory, and there was pessimism among union leaders that the strikers would return to work.

The six-day-old wildcat strike has closed three of the nation's biggest passenger lines and has all but shut down three others. More than a half million passengers have been inconvenienced.

Eastern, American and Trans World all have ceased operation. Pan American, National and Western are maintaining only token service.

Losses in revenue by the six airlines are estimated at more than $5 million a day. More than 84,000 employes of the struck airlines have been laid off.

At Los Angeles, Western Airlines fired its 130 striking engineers and said they would be replaced by pilots as soon as the latter could be trained to handle the planes.

Kennedy's appeal was made through Secretary of Labor Arthur

Committee OKs Repeal Of Fee At State Parks

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Fee elimination at state installations got a boost at Illinois legislative committee hearings Tuesday.

The House Agriculture Committee approved repeal of the 10-cent admission fee at state parks along with elimination of the annual $2 admission fee for cars. The bill goes to the senate floor.

In the state fair bill, three Springfield lawmakers originally called for free admissions after 4 p.m. daily. Committee members agreed to cut it to 5 p.m.

Since 1958, the fair has charged a 50-cent admission around the clock. Supporters of the bill argue lower admission rates would draw larger crowds.

Rep. W. K. Davidson, R-Kewanee, opposed the change. He said county fairs need night admission fees to keep going. If the state fair is free at night, he said, county fairgoers would press for removal of their night admission fee.

Legislation to prevent the daily state racing fee at Cahokia Downs in St. Clair County from being raised won endorsement from the House Agriculture Committee.

The bill would limit the fee to $500 at tracks in counties of less than 400,000 population. St. Clair County has a 267,000 population. Madison County, which embraces Fairmount track, will soon reach the same level.

Currently, tracks in counties of more than 250,000 population have to pay $2,500 a day — the fee which applies to Chicago race tracks — a burden which legislators say would force downstate tracks out of business.

The Senate Executive Committee turned down the suggestion of Sen. W. Russell Arrington, R-Evanston, for a special committee to examine state finances for avenues for economy.

BLACKOUT EXCITES ANIMALS

ROME (AP)—Wolves howled, ostriches tried to bury their heads and gazelles ran in circles during the solar eclipse a week ago, keepers at the Rome Zoo reported today.

Keepers said they kept a close watch on the conduct of the animals during the two-minute blackout of the sun to prepare a report on the reaction of birds and beasts.

Fight Skirmish With Elusive Mountain Man

ROSEBURG, Ore. (AP)—Society's strained relations with mountain man Steve Solovich were shattered Tuesday by a bullet in a pursuer's chest.

A posse fought two sharp skirmishes with the elusive recluse on the forested slopes of Oregon's Cascase Mountains.

When evening fog drifted in, Solovich vanished—just as he has many times before.

An uneasy truce had existed between Solovich and Oregon authorities since he broke out of a Veterans Administration hospital nearly a year ago. Solovich, a mental patient, generally was regarded as a harmless eccentric who wanted only to live alone in the forest.

The truce ended when Solovich began stopping hunters, at gunpoint, to accuse them of hunting him.

Five weeks ago, Deputy Gail Carnine began tracking Solovich. He finally crossed the trail Tuesday and summoned seven men to help him.

As they moved through the trees, someone suddenly shouted: "Go home, you!" A volley of shots drove the possemen to the ground, their rifles cracking in reply.

For two hours the fight continued. Bit by bit the posse advanced.

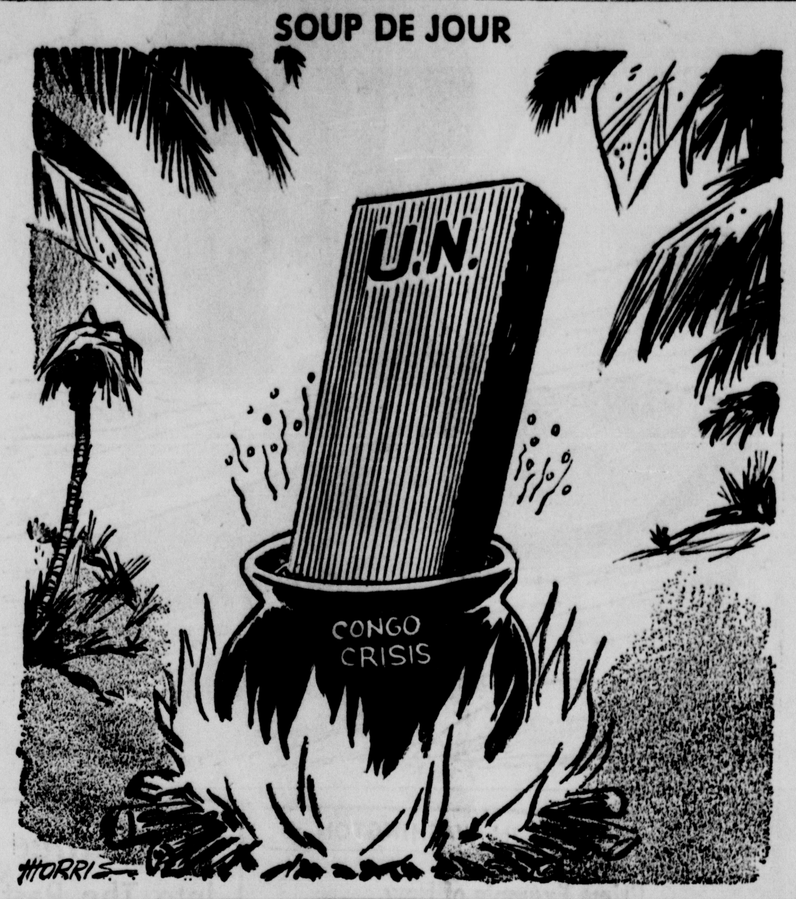

Then, Watson Talcott of Glide, Ore., fell seriously wounded.

Carnine and his force retired to get help for Talcott. Bolstered by 14 recruits, they quickly renewed the search.

They soon found Solovich—one searcher definitely identified him as the sniper—and the fight was renewed.

The fog shut off the firing before any one was hurt.

Solovich is tall and husky. He appears to be about 50. Little is known of his background except that he is a veteran of World War II.

Call Thirty In Trial Of Weger

State Concludes Its Case Today

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) —Prosecutors trying Chester (Rocky) Weger for the murder of one of three matrons slain in Starved Rock State Park approached the end of their case against the former kitchen helper today.

Robert E. Richardson, La Salle County state's attorney, said he expected to conclude the state's case today.

Weger attorney, John A. McNamara, said he planned to call about 30 witnesses — including some who have testified for the state — before the 21-year-old defendant takes the stand in his own defense.

The state is demanding the death penalty for Weger, a small but wiry outdoorsman who admitted killing the three women in a park canyon March 14 when they resisted a robbery attempt. He later repudiated the alleged confession, saying it was forced from him.

Among the witnesses he has subpoenaed, McNamara said, are State Police Chief William Morris and Harland D. Warren, who was LaSalle County state's attorney at the time the women were slain.

The defense attorney said he expects to show that a stormy rival-probably Friday, Weger is expected to repeat the alibi he gave

Tshombe, UN Agree To Freeze Troop Movements

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—President Moise Tshombe of Katanga announced today that his government and the United Nations have agreed to freeze all troop movements.

In a communique Tshombe said "at a meeting this morning between the representative of the United Nations and cabinet ministers of Katanga an agreement was reached whereby all movements of troops likely to lead to friction would be stopped."

It was an abrupt shift for Tshombe, who calls this mineral-rich province independent. Only Tuesday he had ordered a mobilization of all black and white Katangans to prevent any attempt by the U.N. to neutralize his armed forces, as called for in a Security Council resolution.

Earlier today Katanga authorities staged a show of force at Elisabethville Airport, fearing U.N. guards there intended to prevent the movement of Katanga planes.

Truckloads of troops and police rushed to the airport. U.N. guards were immediately reinforced and there were no incidents.

"We are not sure exactly what happened," a United Nations spokesman said, "but it seems the Katanga government feared the United Nations might try to stop planes of the Katanga air force from using the airport and so sent in police reinforcements as a show of force."

The Swedish commander of the U.N. guard summoned extra men.

Katanga soldiers surrounded hangars and other installations of the air force and massed at the control tower and the terminal.

Blue-helmeted Swedish soldiers stood by in their usual positions.

Kennedy Sends Note To K

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today sent a personal message to Soviet Premier Khrushchev expressing hope that current diplomatic conversations will bring better Soviet-American understanding.

Kennedy gave the message to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, for delivery to Khrushchev. Thompson now returns to Moscow.

Thompson spent about 10 minutes at the White House in company of Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

After he left, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger made the following statement:

"Ambassador Thompson has completed his consultation in Washington and leaves today to return to his post in Moscow. In a series of meetings, the President and the secretary of state have received from Ambassador Thompson a first-hand report on a variety of subjects affecting American-Soviet relations.

"In addition, these meetings will enable Ambassador Thompson to return to Moscow with a clear understanding of the President's views on the matters discussed for his use as guidance in conversations with Soviet officials. He is taking a personal message to Khrushchev expressing the President's confidence in Ambassador Thompson and the desire that any further conversations between Soviet officials and the ambassador will be fruitful and assist in bringing about better American-Soviet understanding."

Thompson planned to go to New York by train and set out by air Thursday for Moscow.

Faces Trial For Robbery Fatal To One Victim

MARSHALL, N. C. (AP) — George A. Garner, a convict from Illinois, has arrived in Marshall to stand trial for a 1955 robbery during which the victim suffered a fatal heart attack.

Two other convicts, including Charles P. (Rocky) Rothschild, a former policeman from Cairo, Ill., are charged in the case.

The earliest the trial could begin would be Monday when Madison County Superior Court begins a criminal term.

Sheriff E. Y. Ponder picked up Garner at a prison in Chester, Ill., Friday and took him to Marshall for trial on charges of murder, burglary and robbery.

Garner is serving an 8-12 year sentence for manslaughter in the death of Jake Rubin in Illinois while Garner was free on bond

Washington Birthdays Troublous

Posterity Shows Gayety He Missed

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

WASHINGTON CROSSING, Pa. (AP)—George Washington seldom had a happy birthday.

When the anniversary rolled around he was more often than not plagued by sickness, lack of cash, crop failures, spiteful tongues, sunshine patriots and politicians handy with the harpoon.

Posterity seems bent on making up, in its own fashion, for what the father of his country missed. With parties, parades and shopping sprees as diversified highlights, the Feb. 22 anniversary seems headed for eventual status as a full national holiday.

But it was certainly nothing like a holiday, or even a decent birthday, for Washington 200 years ago today. He was 29, then, living at Mount Vernon, deep in problems.

Research at this center of Washington lore on the Delaware River shows Washington at that time was suffering from fevers and in severe pain from something resembling an acute attack of flu. His tobacco crop was poor. His plantation was running down generally, largely because he had been away from home so much.

It was also a time of political crisis for Washington. He was running for re-election to the Virginia House of Burgesses from Frederick County. His opponent was an old comrade-in-arms, Adam Stephen, from the French and Indian war.

Stephen conducted a whooping, whirling campaign. Hampered by illness, Washington was like a guttering candle competing with a fireworks display. Washington won the election, but seemed in no mood to celebrate.

Down through the years, Washington wrote often of money worries; of going into debt and of being unable to collect money due him; of selling land and goods at losses; of having to turn down friends' appeals for loans.

As early as 1782—he died in 1799 at the age of 67—he said "I pant for retirement" so that he might end his days in quiet. Before that came to pass, however, he was called upon to serve eight driving years as president.

'WE BOUNCED LIKE BALLS' ILLINOISAN SAYS OF DERAILING

FARGO, N. D. (AP)—A Hillsboro, Ill., couple and a Chicago man were among 30 persons hospitalized after a crack Northern Pacific Railroad passenger train left the rails Tuesday near Buffalo, N. D.

Listed in fair to good condition in a hospital in Valley City, N. D., were Mr. and Mrs. William Nockman of Hillsboro and Albert L. Nelson of Chicago.

Their ages and addresses were not available.

No critical injuries were reported when the last nine cars of the train, Mainstreeter No. 1, skidded off the tracks. The train was traveling about 60 miles an hour, authorities said.

"We bounced around like rubber balls, and I was shaken like a leaf," Nelson said later.

The train left Chicago Monday night and was headed for Seattle via Minneapolis-St. Paul. The wreck was believed caused by a broken rail.

U.S. Orbits Doubleheader

Races Scuffle In South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A brief scuffle between Negro demonstrators seeking access to white theaters in Nashville, Tenn., and a group of white youths ended after several of the Negroes had been beaten and mussed up.

An estimated 50 white youths shouted insults Tuesday night as the students resumed their theater stand-ins. Monday night 26 Negroes and a white coed were arrested for a similar demonstration. All were released after spending the night in jail when City Judge Andrew Doyle ruled the fire ordinance under which they had been arrested had been replaced by a new one.

About 100 Negro students took part in Tuesday night's demonstration. Attacked by the white boys as they left the area, the Negroes did not retaliate although several were beaten and kicked and one had his glasses broken. Police stationed at the four downtown theaters did not witness the affray two blocks away and no arrests were made.

More than 60 Negro students were in jail at Sumter, S.C., today for refusing police orders to break up a mass march on the downtown area to protest segregation.

Young Negroes also went to jail at Columbia, S.C., and Lynchburg, Va., for staging lunch counter sit-in demonstrations. Pickets seeking entrance to white theaters at Chattanooga, Tenn., bore signs proclaiming, "We are misfits in a

Labor Launches Drive To Back Health Aid Plan

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Organized labor is launching a big lobby organization with interested outsiders to help put over President Kennedy's Social Security health aid plan for the aged.

The AFL-CIO announced Tuesday it is combining forces with others supporting the plan to combat opposing drives by the American Medical Association, the American Bar Association and such business groups as the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and National Association of Manufacturers.

Kennedy has proposed an extra quarter-cent payroll tax on workers and their employers to finance an aged health plan added to the Social Security system This would replace the program adopted under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration to finance health benefits for the aged out of the U.S. Treasury.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said in announcing the new organization to push for the Kennedy plan, that financing health benefits for the aged through Social Security would enable workers to buy insurance against health costs in their advancing years.

Kennedy's Social Security financing plan has been attacked by the medical association and other organizations as a step toward socialized medicine, a contention hotly denied by the AFL-CIO and other Kennedy plan advocates.

Blast Kills Six

BULLETIN

BORGER, Tex. (AP) — An explosion occurred at the Alamo plant of the Phillips Petroleum Co. just outside this Texas Panhandle city and police said several persons were killed.

The explosion was followed by a fire which was brought under control within a half hour.

Unconfirmed early reports to police said six or more may have died. The number of injured was not immediately known.

Youth Kills Parents

Scout, Head Of His Class

WEAVERVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Daryl Moss, 15, president of the sophomore class at Weaverville high school, killed his parents early today.

Sheriff Harold Wilson said the crewcut, bespectacled Daryl also shot at a young woman who lived with his family. He missed, but then hit her over her head with a rifle, injuring her seriously.

Wilson said the boy took $24 belonging to his Boy Scout troop and more than $400 of church funds his father had been entrusted with and drove away in the family car.

Police captured Daryl near Redding less than an hour later, and said he admitted the killings. In the car was a rifle he had used and cartridges.

He surrendered quietly and was questioned at the Redding police station, about 40 miles east of this Northern California town.

"I hated my father," Daryl told Wilson. "We just couldn't get along. I wanted to leave home. He didn't want me to."

HOLD REQUIEM MASS FOR JETLINER VICTIMS

BRUSSELS (AP)— A Solemn Requiem Mass was held today for the 73 victims of the jetliner that crashed near here a week ago. Forty-nine Americans perished, including the 18 members of the U.S. figure skating team.

The black-draped Minimes Catholic church—which is dedicated to Our Lady of Lorette, patron saint of fliers—was filled with mourners.

Investigation into the cause of the disaster is continuing.

Six Space Successes In A Row

WASHINGTON (AP) —Tuesday night's doubleheader satellite shoot was only partially successful and the orbiting devices are not living up to expectations, a spokesman for Johns Hopkins Applied Physics Laboratory said today.

The pair of space travelers achieved orbit, the spokesman said, but the path apparently is only a little over 100 miles above the earth instead of the target height of 500 miles.

He added that there are some indications the two units may not have separated as they were intended to do.

The laboratory, an affiliate of John Hopkins University, is in charge of the tracking of the space messengers.

The new satellites—or one satellite if they are still joined together—are the Navy's 250-pound Transit III-B navigation device and a 54-pound hitchhiker called Lofti, intended to study space communications.

Prior to the double launching the United States had put up three satellites in five days and built up a string of six straight space successes since the first of the year.

The doubleheader went up at 10:45 Tuesday night from Cape Canaveral, Fla., propelled by a Thor-Able-Star rocket.

Putting satellites up by the bundle is nothing new to the Able-Star. It did the trick last June with Transit II-A and a radiation satellite.

One of the string of 1961 successes in America's swiftly moving program to conquer space occurred earlier Tuesday at Cape Canaveral.

Acquits Judges Of Traffic Tax Fix Connection

CHICAGO (AP) — A Criminal Court judge Tuesday acquitted two Municipal Court judges of charges that they conspired to defraud Chicago of traffic violation revenues.

The defendants, Judges Henry C. Ferguson and John J. Sullivan, were the last of 34 defendants indicted in the city's Traffic Court scandal which began when deficiencies were noted in municipal revenues from traffic fines.

Judge Abraham W. Brussell gave a directed verdict after the state rested its case, making it unnecessary for the defense to present a case. He ruled the state had failed to prove the charges.

A grand jury last year charged diversion of funds and ticket fixing involving hundreds of thousands of dollars was brought about by misfeasance and malfeasance of court officials and employes.

Estimate Farmers' Gain Under New Plan

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration estimates a typical farmer with 120 acres of cropland used for feed grains would get $6,864 this year under its new feed grain program, compared with $6,210 under the old.

Under the new plan, farmers would place not less than 20 per cent of this acreage to conservation uses and for doing this they would get government payments and increased price supports on the grain they did produce. They also could grow more soybeans at greatly increased supports.

The old program provided no limitation on feed grain acreage and made supports available to all growers.

In the typical example, the 120-acre feed grain farm would have 20 acres devoted to soybeans and 100 acres to corn if the old program were kept. The administration estimated the soybean crop at 24 bushels an acre or a total of 480 bushels. It forecast the price at $2 a bushel.

The production of corn on the 100 acres was put at 5,000 bushels. Value of the corn was estimated at $1.05 a bushel.

Thus the combined value of the corn and soybeans would be $6,210 under the old feed grain program.

Under the new plan, the farmer would retire 20 acres for which he would get a government payment of $36 an acre or a total of $720. This payment would be determined by multiplying the yield per acre—50 bushels—by 60 per cent of the plan's new price support for corn. The support would be $1.20 a bushel and the land retirement rate 72 cents.

The example farm would put 35 acres to soybeans on which it would get a yield of 24 bushels per acre or a total of 840 bushels. At the new price support rate of $2.30 a bushel, this crop would bring the farmer $1,932.

This farm would have only 65 acres of corn, on which it would get 54 bushels per acre or a total of about 3,510 bushels. The administration figures the yield per acre would average a little higher on the 65 acres than the 100 acres under the present plan because of the likelihood the retired land would be the poorest 20 acres of the total cropland.

The corn crop would have a total value of $4,212 at the proposed new support of $1.20 a bushel.

Thus the combined value of the corn, the soybeans and the government payments on the retired land would be $6,864, or $654 more than under the old program.

Editorial Comment

A Cause Of Recession

(From Chicago's American)

It was a chilling report on foreign aid which Sen. Allen A. Ellender (D., La.) gave to the Senate Monday for it showed that, besides the wastefulness and lack of sense with which many phases of the world-wide spending are carried on, the errors in judgment on which this country built the program in the first place are now paying off in costly frustration.

Ellender knows a great deal about the administration of foreign aid, for he has just been around the world studying its operations.

Here, as told the Senate, are some ways he found the United States squandering money:

Shipping quantities of steel plows and harrows to the primitive Ethiopians, who won't use them, preferring the crude wooden implements of their ancestors;

Building a 10 million dollar university in Ethiopia, altho there will be no students for it, since less than 2 per cent of the population is literate;

Maintaining a United States information service (the boss gets $20,000 a year) in Yugoslavia, where the thoroly regimented communist population is impervious to American economic and poltical ideas;

Paying the costs of maintaining United States troops in West Germany for West Germany's protection; and paying a large part of Italy's defense costs—altho both Germany and Italy are enjoying economic booms;

Picking up almost the whole of the check for keeping South Korea free from communist domination, because Britain, France, Belgium, and other nations, which have the same interest that we have in keeping South Korea free, refuse to put anything much into the aid program.

The basic fault in the foreign aid undertaking is, as Ellender said, that this country has made agreements with nearly all the nations outside the iron curtain to defend them and to help build up their economies, but has not pledged them to any cooperation in return.

The American government assumed that when the nations of western Europe regained their prosperity thru our financial help they would do everything they could to take up their share of the common burden of defending the west. Our government assumed also that these nations, in simple gratitude, would remove all obstacles to United States trade with their countries, so that the United States might share fully in their new prosperity.

These assumptions have turned out to be childish. The United States continues to carry most of the west's defense burden. Its sales of goods in Europe continue to fall short of what they should be. And that, as Ellender accurately observed, is one of the important reasons for the business recession that afflicts our country now.

Among his recommendations to Congress of measures to restore the national economy to full vigor, President Kennedy should have included a request for a searching investigation into the operations of foreign aid and for legislation to inject some sense into the program.

Congress can do this without a recommendation from the President, tho, and Congress owes it to the country to do it.

Let's Get Ready

That tide of population is catching us up in a way we hadn't foreseen. It is making the colleges bulge—and the streets and highways as well. By 1970, the number of drivers under 25 will be 50 per cent larger. We're going to need improved driver training courses and safety programs to reverse the trend of the high accident ratio for this age group.

Impact Will Grow

A report by an English research foundation contains a startling prediction: By 1980 one man out of five in most advanced countries will be over 65. The sociological and labor problems bound up in this little fact are only now beginning to be felt.

"On the basis of your daughter's kindergarten aptitude test, and particularly the skill she showed in finger painting, we are extremely pleased to announce she has won a four-year tuition-free scholarship to the college of her choice."

"After thinking it over, my wife has decided it wouldn't be fair to sue you because your car struck hers while she was traveling the wrong way on a one-way street. She concedes it was entirely her fault, and if you will just send us the bill for your damages we will———."

"I had planned to leave my estate in trust for Tabitha, the cat that has been my faithful companion for 15 years. But the poor dear passed away last week. So, since you are my only remaining nephew, I am changing my will to make you———."

"Our laboratory test of the glittering rock your young son picked up on his Boy Scout hike shows that it does contain gold. Based on this sample, we estimate the ore should assay out at about $4,000 a ton, making it by far the richest strike we have ever——"

"Dad, don't bother about sending me any more money. After I threw those three touchdowns in the last game, the university raised my salary. I'm doing so well now that if you need any help in meeting the mortgage payments on the house, just let me know."

"The X-rays show the cause of your sore gums is that you are growing a third set of teeth. They are coming in at a remarkable rate, and I predict that in another three months you should be able to discard both your upper and lower plates."

"Unable to reach you by phone last week, I took the liberty of putting you down for $500 worth of shares in Amalgamated Buttonhooks, Ltd. As you probably noted the stock has since tripled in value and will soon split."

"As your company doctor, I am glad to inform you that you passed your recent physical examination with flying colors. You are now at liberty to eat as much as you like, drink as much as you like, smoke as much as you like. However, I have informed the management you have been working too hard and should be given a long vacation at the firm's expense.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese, ever clever in seeking world markets, are going all-out in shock films.

Production will start next month on the science-fiction horror epic to end all such films, if that is possible. The project will be the costliest movie ever made in Japan — $700,000 worth. That may be a small cup of sake by Hollywood standards, but it is 10 times what the average Japanese feature costs.

The name of the film is "Dai Kai Ju," which literally means "Great, Strange Animal" and no doubt will get a jazzier title for American consumption. I took an hour's taxi ride to Toho Studios to see how great and strange the animal can be.

Strange, yes; great, no. It will appear immense on the movie screen, but the animal is actually a few feet high. The illusion is accomplished by a film wizard named Eiji Tsuburaya. He is Japan's master of special effects.

Tsuburaya is a quiet, unassuming man who wears glasses and slouch hat. He started in Japanese films 40 years ago, first as scenario writer and later as cameraman and director.

"The change in my life came when I saw 'King Kong,'" he said. "That inspired me. At that time, Japanese trick photography was very backward. I started working in that field and by 1937 I began to accomplish some of the things I wanted to do."

The flowering of special effects came after the war. Tsuburaya put Japan into the horror market with the successful "Godzilla." In "Three Treasures," he managed to create a serpent with eight heads.

"Dai Kai Ju" is the ultimate in shockers. It features a three-stage monster, a rampaging fugitive from an atomic-test island. The creature rips through Tokyo while passing through larva, caterpillar and moth stages. During his tour, he'll tear apart the Diet building and topple Tokyo Tower, highest tower in the world.

Such marvels are in the hands of Tsuburaya, and he demonstrated how he will accomplish them. Visitors are sworn to secrecy, lest Toho's competitors steal the design for their own horror epics.

But he said with a sign:

"American trick techniques are still the best in the world. Ah, that 'King Kong!'"

Steppingstone

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the Kennedy administration this is that time—just after dawn—which fishermen love on a lake. There is practically no wind and the place is calm.

Things are still calm for President Kennedy who took office a month ago. There has been practically no wind, although there's been some growling about his programs from various quarters and Republicans have made some cracks.

But nothing really harsh has happened or been said—yet. This will soon change as Congress, which up till now hasn't started earning its pay for 1961, gets down to work on Kennedy's programs.

There will be a lot of wind then, and a lot of rough water. The infighting should be fascinating.

The trouble with in-fighting, from the spectator's viewpoint, is that so much of it is out of sight, like the mayhem that goes on constantly under the surface of a lake where fish chew on each other and the unseen winners put on weight.

Just by themselves, following their own inclinations, many members of Congress will fight one Kennedy program or another, even if they didn't have outside help. But the help will be there.

Various pressure groups or lobbies, already busy and vocal, will be busier still, for or against. You can see it now in the fight, still in its mild stage, being waged over Kennedy's proposal to tie medical care for the aged to Social Security.

But Kennedy, with 14 years in Congress behind him, is no novice in trying to get politicians to see things his way and in rallying public support for what he wants.

Anyone who has ever taken the trouble to learn about his activities in those 14 years as a senator and representative knows he pays scrupulous attention to details.

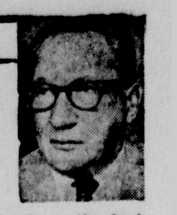

And his handpicked staff of White House assistants, men who have been through the political wars with him, not only pay attention to details but are tireless in doing so.

Kennedy has various pressures at his disposal to make Congress see things his way. Pressure can be exerted, for instance, through direct or indirect appeals to the public on television, if only in statements he makes at news conferences. This kind of pressure is there for all to see.

A far more subtle influence lies in patronage, the power to satisfy desires in and out of Congress for jobs. Judgeships, for example, or jobs as postmasters.

Unlike Dwight D. Eisenhower, who was a political novice, Congress this year is dealing with a political pro in Kennedy who was for 14 years on the receiving end of pressure.

Don't Sell Cat Naps Short; They Are Safety Valves

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.
Written For NEA

A great-grandmother, in her 93rd year, wants to know if there's anything she can do to keep from napping every so often. "I've always been able to cat nap at odd times during the afternoon and evening but now I doze off for a few minutes even in the morning," she complains.

Well, bully for you, as Teddy Roosevelt used to say. Have you ever thought that maybe one of the reasons your family continues to be blessed with your presence is this gift of napping?

Far from suggesting something you can do to keep from napping, I'd suggest you teach the trick to everyone you hold dear. For, in my opinion, the ability to doze at regular intervals during the day is a most valuable safety valve in these tortured times.

Note that I emphasized "regular intervals." For, as you can readily imagine, there are great dangers inherent in catnaps taken at irregular intervals when you're at work, in class or driving a car.

By regular intervals, I mean preferably after the midday meal or before or after the evening meal. For example, the former is favored for the housewife after she has finished her morning chores and before she starts out for the afternoon session of marketing, shopping, calling for the children and the like.

The midday snooze is also favored for the worker or executive who has the good fortune to have a comfortable place to doze off—the cab of a truck or the back seat of a car, a shady spot on the grass, a comfortable chair or a couch in an office.

For those who can't take a midday nap, the snooze before or after the evening meal is the next best bet. Either way, however, it has to be accepted as part of the daily routine. Otherwise it's never work or never be respected.

Now what does the nap accomplish? Well, for one thing, it breaks the working day in half. It refreshes in a way that has never been satisfactorily explained.

We know very little about the wonderful phenomenon of sleep. It's possible that we have a sort of sleep center in the brain. When, as a result of fatigue or drug administration, that center gets a red light, it sends out signals that make our eyelids heavy and that cause us to yawn among other things. This signal probably influences the entire body.

At any rate, the cat nap, under controlled conditions, is a real blessing. And I hope our great-grandmother continues to indulge in it.

Prime Example of How Reds Work: Congo Crisis

By PETER EDSON
Written For NEA

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— Anyone who still believes it will be possible to work out a peaceful coexistence with Soviet Russia may today be regarded as just plain naive, or a dope.

What has happened in the primitive Congo and at the other end of the line—in the sophisticated United Nations Security Council—offers irrefutable evidence on how the Communists twist events to meet their nefarious ends.

Russia's efforts to blame the murder of Congo's ex-premier, Patrice Lumumba, on the U.N. in general and on U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold in particular are complete distortions to fit Red propaganda.

Experts On The Congo have said in the past that even if Lumumba had been restored to the premiership of the Congo government, he would not have lasted long. He was unscrupulous, amoral, unstable and awfully cunning.

The Russians would have had to get rid of him because he was not a Communist. His real ambition was to become king of the Congo and preside over a black Africa.

Communists have their own ways to get rid of people in their road. But the fact that Lumumba was murdered by Congolese natives who collected a reward for him from the Katanga government of President Moise Tshombe merely makes the dead man a martyr for the Communists to demonstrate about. It gives them the chance they have been waiting for to move back into the Congo and take over.

The Complete Record of Communist infiltration in the Congo goes back to the early 1950s. Handpicked Congolese were sent quietly to out-of-the-way places like Indonesia for tough guerrilla fighting and to Czechoslovakia for training in Communist revolutionary tactics.

It was in Prague that Lumumba's lieutenant and successor, Antoine Gizenga, got Communist schooling after the Brussels conference which granted independence to the Congo.

The Belgian Communist party, which had been moribund since the war, was pepped up during the Brussels conference to give the Congolese advice on how to handle the Belgian government. Lumumba spent much time with the Reds and they didn't miss a trick.

After the Brussels conference, 150 Congolese leaders went behind the iron curtain for more revolutionary training.

Back in the new, now independent Congo, they sold Communist party memberships for 100 francs, guaranteeing freedom from taxation for life. They infiltrated eight of the twelve Congo political parties. They preached the doctrine that the Belgian businessmen and missionaries were bad white men who were taking their country away from them, so kick them out.

In contrast, the Russians were pointed out as good white men who would help the Congolese win independence, but who didn't want the Congo because it was too hot for them. So don't throw stones at the Russians.

Lumumba bought the premiership by bribery. He failed to take over the country because he could not get control of the Congolese army, the old Belgian-trained Force Publique.

Sergeant, now Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, did that. He closed the Russian embassy and jailed Lumumba. But the Czech embassy remained as a pipeline for underground Communist activity that led to establishment of the Stanleyville regional regime under Gizenga.

Russia, the United Arab Republic and others now recognize this as the government of the Congo, though it has no legal standing. And the stage is set for a civil war.

This Is Exactly The Pattern for Russian support of revolutionary wars, as spelled out by the Moscow manifesto drawn up by Communists from 81 countries last November.

"The Communists fully support such just wars," said Russia's Chairman Nikita Khrushchev in the now famous Jan. 6 speech, "and march in the front rank with peoples waging liberation struggles."

This explains exactly why the Russians are intervening directly in the Congo with aid to the Gizenga faction. And it explains why U. S. Ambassador to the U.N. Adlai Stevenson charges that the Russian resolution against Secretary Dag Hammarskjold is "a declaration of war on the United Nations."

The Mature Parent

Keep Communication Lines Open to Your Children

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

The other day in answer to a mother troubled by her 13-year-old's rudeness, I suggested that she try to recover her original response of hurt and indignation and express it simply and immediate to the child.

It may not be easy. Today, many factors make it difficult for us to say "You have hurt me and I don't like it" to an insolent child. One of the factors is the indoctrination by the child-centered phychologists who have made it almost impossible for us to feel our own feelings any more.

We've been told so consistently to concern ourselves with the child's feelings that our own right to some has become vague. When the youngster we've asked to curtail her telephone conversation retorts with a demand that we mind our own business, we are confused and helpless.

Instead of expressing our own feelings toward her rudeness, we start trying to "understand" the feelings in her that produced the rudeness. We think, "Maybe Joan has been frustrated by some social situation at school she has to discuss with her friend . . . maybe she's seeking support for anger at some teacher . . . maybe she's worried about homework. What is the emotion in Joan that has driven her to snap off my head?"

Now Joan's reason for snapping off our heads is her affair, her responsibility. If we are always going to take the responsibility from her by trying to figure it out ourselves, Joan is never going to learn to make her own contribution to human relationship.

It is only when we can take responsibility for our feelings that Joan begins to take some for hers. Instead of expecting us to figure out her reason for her prolonged phone conversation, she will explain it herself. To our statement, "You have hurt me and I don't like it," she will answer, "I had to get Gloria's history notes because I missed the assignment." She may even add, "I'm sorry I was rude, mother."

This is life, communication between people. But when we deny children any expression of what we feel about the things they do to us, nothing takes place between us but stagnation and impasse.

Invulnerable parenthood is a bad ideal. That we've been saddled with it is why the young so often treat us like conveniences instead of creatures with feelings like those they have themselves.

How Our Attitudes Have Changed! Recall These?

Do you remember when—

- A husband expected a night out "with the boys" now and then but no wife in her right mind demanded an occasional evening "with the girls"?
- College girls thought they had to choose between marriage and a career instead of assuming that a job and marriage go together like a horse and carriage?
- A woman who had a household allowance was considered lucky, instead of underprivileged for not having a joint checking account?
- Saying, "I love the color of your hair" to a woman who was helping nature out a bit would have been considered the height of cattiness instead of a frank compliment?
- Junior's misbehavior at school was a matter to be settled between Junior and his teacher—and not through a conference with his mother?
- A young man waited to propose to a girl until he could answer with "yes, sir" the first question he knew her father would ask: "Can you support my daughter?"
- Children were more familiar with the command. "You'll have to ask your father" than "Go ask your mother; she's the boss"?
- Families sat for a long time talking at the dinner table because there was no TV program some member of the family couldn't miss?
- A housewife would have preferred to be known as "a good manager" than as a "community leader"?
- A husband who never wanted to go anywhere was praised for being a "family man" instead of low-rated for being anti-social?
- Parents blamed their children when they did wrong, instead of blaming themselves?

Remember?

matter of FACT

An exciting way to win a bride was the "love chase." The Kirghiz peoples of Siberia awarded a bride to the man who could catch her in a race. The bride could use a whip on her horse, and on suitors she didn't care for. She usually managed to be "caught" by the man she'd wanted all along.

American Pears in A French Dessert

AMERICAN accent is added to a favorite French dessert with Bartlett pears teamed with an instant pudding mix.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Written For NEA

Creme brule (pronounced broolay) is a popular French dessert made mainly of eggs, cream and brown sugar. It tastes somewhat like a super caramel custard

However, our friends on the Pacific Coast have used their canned pears to add an American touch to this French dessert. Certainly, with all respect for our Western friends, this is a far cry from the creme brule one enjoys in a Paris restaurant. However, it is very good, and does help our American agriculture.

So let's order it for dinner. Vive la France and long live American Bartlett pears.

Pearadise Creme Brule
(Makes 4 servings)

1 can (No. 303) Bartlett pear halves
1 package vanilla instant pudding mix
2 cups cream or half and half
½ teaspoon rum or brandy flavoring
½ cup brown sugar

Combine pudding mix and cream, following package instructions. Add flavoring; pour into shallow baking dish or pie plate. Chill. Arrange drained pear halves on top of pudding. Sprinkle generously and evenly with brown sugar. Place under broiler until sugar melts, bubbles and turns dark brown. Chill.

Elect Mrs. James Sturgeon President Of Woman's Club

By Dorothy Sauer
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone Pioneer 2-3439)

WINCHESTER — Mrs. James Sturgeon was elected president of the Winchester Woman's Club for the ensuing year at the general assembly meeting held Monday afternoon in Sibert Hall. Other officers elected were Mrs. Harry Rueter, vice president; Mrs. Murl Hardy, recording secretary; Mrs. O. R. Robertson, corresponding secretary and Miss Ruth Reeder, treasurer. The report of the nominating committee was given by Miss Lois Coultas who, with Mrs. N. L. Hutchens and Mrs. H. B. Corrie, served on the committee.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Opal Wagoner, president. Reports were given by the various committee heads including a report of the project and ways and means committees. A decision on their plans currently under discussion will be given at the next meeting.

Dr. Kimball Speaks

Dr. Elsa Kimball, professor emeritus of MacMurray College, was the guest speaker and was introduced by her friend, Miss Lois Coultas of Winchester. Dr. Kimball, who has had a wealth of experience in the literary field, having served as professor of English and philosophy, spoke to those present on "Emily Dickinson, Woman and Poet." She described the life and times of the Massachusetts poet whose most prolific writing was done during the Civil War period just 100 years ago.

Dr. Kimball was very enthusiastic in her remarks concerning Emily Dickinson, who has been called the "Mystical Poet" because of her knack of picking out the unusual and tying it up with the very ordinary in her writings. Some of Miss Dickinson's poems on death are among her most outstanding ones. The speaker illustrated the poet's perfection in the mating of words and ideas, that has rarely been achieved, by reading several of her works.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Paul Garrison, chairman, Mrs. R. R. Funk, Mrs. L. A. Watt, Mrs. E. S. Waid, Mrs. Jesse Overton, Mrs. Earl Black, Mrs. N. L. Hutchens and Mrs. Kenneth Cunningham.

May File Petitions

Candidates may file their petitions for members of the Board of Education of Community Unit School District No. 1 in Scott County beginning today. The final date for filing is Saturday, March 18, and candidates may withdraw their names on or before March 21.

Two members are to be elected for terms of three years each. Present members of the board whose terms are expiring are Andrew L. Sauer and Herman Flynn. Mr. Sauer was elected for an unexpired term on April 9, 1960, and Mr. Flynn was appointed by the board to complete the term of Fred F. Thady, who moved into the city of Winchester making him ineligible to serve.

Only three members may serve on the board from any one township and Township 14, Range 12, which includes the City of Winchester, already has three members serving on the board.

Incumbent members and the townships in which they reside are as follows: James A. Gordon, Township 13, Range 11; James H. Campbell, Township 13, Range 12; C. L. McLaughlin, Roland F. Reid and B. F. Green, Township 14, Range 12; Andrew L. Sauer and Herman Flynn, Township 14, Range 13.

The annual school election will be held on Saturday, April 8, at the following polling places: Manchester, Alsey, Glasgow, Winchester, and Merritt from the hours of 12 noon until 7 p.m.

PEO Meets

Chapter EK of the PEO in Winchester met on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Elsie Thomas with Mrs. Earl Black, president, presiding over the business meeting.

Mrs. Clyde North presented a most interesting and informative paper on "Science in a Changing World" and in which she spoke of some of the work her sons, Bert and Warren, are doing at the present time.

The next meeting of the Chapter will be on March 4, 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. C. M. Danner.

Baptist Men's Fellowship

The Men's Fellowship group of the First Baptist Church held their regular meeting Monday evening in the church basement with 21 present.

Group singing, led by Basil Taylor and accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Edward Graham, was enjoyed by those present.

Truman Scott, chairman, presided over the meeting. A report was given by Robert Worrell on the Union Fellowship Meet to be March 22 with the ladies of the Evening Mission Circle to serve the meal. J. M. Schnake reported on the progress of the pancake and sausage day to be held this Saturday and stated that the hogs have been processed and are in the making for the all day affair.

Rev. F. V. Wright, former pastor of the local church, was the guest speaker on the subject, "Andrew, the Man of Decision."

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge at the close of the evening.

RNA Has Meeting

The regular meeting night of the Winchester RNA lodge was observed on Monday evening in the IOOF Hall with Mrs. Glenn Graybael, Oracle, presiding over the business. It was decided to hold a bake sale on Saturday, April 15, in the Farm Bureau window with a solicitation committee to be appointed at the next meeting.

Mrs. Monte Pile, Miss Jacqueline Frank and Mrs. Glenn Graybael were appointed as members of the social committee to serve at the March meeting.

Following lodge Bunco was in play and refreshments served in Wildy Hall.

How Fortunate We Were

The Man Who Cast the Mold — George Washington could have had anything he wanted at the end of the Revolutionary War, up to and including the title of king. Such was the esteem and veneration in which he was held by Americans.

Even as duly elected president, Washington could easily have usurped great powers and set the United States on a course directly opposite from that which it has taken. He might well have continued in office until his death and set a pattern of self-perpetuation for his successors.

With a bad first president as a model, it is conceivable that future administration changeovers might have become the palace revolution type so familiar in many countries. We now have a Constitutional amendment limiting presidents to two terms. Many feel it is unnecessary and even unwise. But had Washington not established this tradition, as well as the tradition of devotion to self-government under law, there may have been no Constitution left at all.

Washington set a standard of leadership, not only for presidents but for all public officials, that has played no small part in making this country what it is today. That the ideal of democracy on which the nation was founded has survived and grown, however haltingly, for 172 years is testimony to the impetus and direction given to it by Washington.

Why did Washington shy away from power and self-aggrandizement? Other leaders in history, men more brilliant than he, have started with idealism and ended in depotism. Some have begun in devotion to their people and ended with the conviction that they alone were qualified to rule.

Washington himself would have answered that he did not desire to rule over men. He was a country gentleman, and agriculturalist, a student of gracious living in the fullest sense of the word.

But that much is self-evident. The real answer could not be given without a complete study of the individual, his environment and the influences that shaped his life.

Suffice it to say that Washington was aware of the dangers mentioned above. Like the other great men who were his contemporaries, he knew the world's sad history of injustice and oppression. They wrote into the Constitution as much of the wisdom that could be distilled from their knowledge.

More important, however, Washington brought to his office a deep sense of responsibility toward the new nation in particular and the human race in general. He possessed the kind of humility only truly great men possess. He was, indeed, the Father of His Country.

Miss I. Smith Dies Tuesday In Washington, D.C.

Miss Isabelle Smith, 612 Oglethorpe avenue, Washington, D. C., passed away at her home Tuesday. Miss Smith was born in Mason County, Illinois in 1882, daughter of Isaac and Sarah Frances Moss Smith. Her only survivors are several nieces and nephews in the Jacksonville and Springfield area.

The short business meeting following the dinner was presided over by the president, Virgil Coughlin.

Rev. Strouse presented a paper entitled, "The Devil and the Deep Blue Sea" which told of how the devil of starvation which threatens the future of the world might be overcome through the exploitation of scientific discoveries of the vast store of food contained in the sea. The paper stated that "After some hundreds of thousands of years of striving, two thirds of the world's population live in a permanent state of hunger and if, today, we are having trouble in producing adequate supplies of food for three billion people, what problems lie ahead only thirty-five years from now when twice that number will have to be fed. Even in our own country, with its present plentious supply of food, an estimated increase of 35 million populace by 1975 will present a problem since these extra people will require more homes, more schools, more churches, more highways, etc., and all these structures will cover ground once used for raising food.

The speaker pointed out in his paper that "Man has hitherto taken his food from the land but through science we learn that there is a storehouse of potential food in the sea to startle the imagination. Recently students of oceanography have been experimenting with a dark green substance called algae. "Algae can be grown in whatever quantities may be required almost anywhere in the world—in oceans, lakes, ponds, even barren deserts. The yield of food produced by algae is fantastic. That grown on ponds can produce 15 times as much food per acre as soybeans. About 15 tons of it is protein and two or more tons of fat are produced at the same time. With algae fed on yeast, food technicians hope to revolutionize world nutrition. Toward this end they plan huge industrial plants. A single such factory could produce enough proteins to feed three million people."

Rev. Strouse, in his concluding remarks stated that "The quartermaster Food Institute of the Armed Forces is making an extensive study of the chemistry of algae. Their purpose is to consider its use as nourishment for a modern army, food for space vehicles and a partial answer to the world's hunger. They point out, however, that certain problems are yet to be solved in order to make the operating system concise and the food palatable. Modern science has clearly indicated that in the long scheme of our Creator's wisdom, the devil of starvation has been outwitted by the abundant resources of the deep blue sea."

AN OPEN LETTER FROM
CRIT HANELINE, REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR
IN THE PRIMARY ELECTION TUES., FEB. 28, 1961

Dear Voter:

I have lived in Jacksonville since 1912. The Haneline family has been in this county since 1878. My two daughters were born here and educated in our public school system. My wife and I were married here, she died here and is at rest in Diamond Grove Cemetery. My personal life and my interests are wrapped up in this town and it is truly my home. I have operated my own business here as sole owner since 1933.

I served as an alderman from the fourth ward for four years, from May 1949 to May 1953. During this period I was finance chairman and in this capacity I had a part in every operation of the city administration. During this period the city council was unusually busy due to the building boom, the formation of the new zoning ordinance and the building of Mrs. Tucker's plant. The building of this plant took many hours of the council's efforts for more than two years to work out power, water and sewer services, etc. This was well worth while for it is a fine addition to the industry of our city. I had to become a student of municipal government to be able to function properly in my position. For this reason I feel justified in saying that I am qualified to fill the position of mayor.

I know how the city should be operated. How to furnish adequate services and still keep within a reasonable budget. I am aware of the problems our industry has presented to the city and I am aware of the methods necessary for their solution.

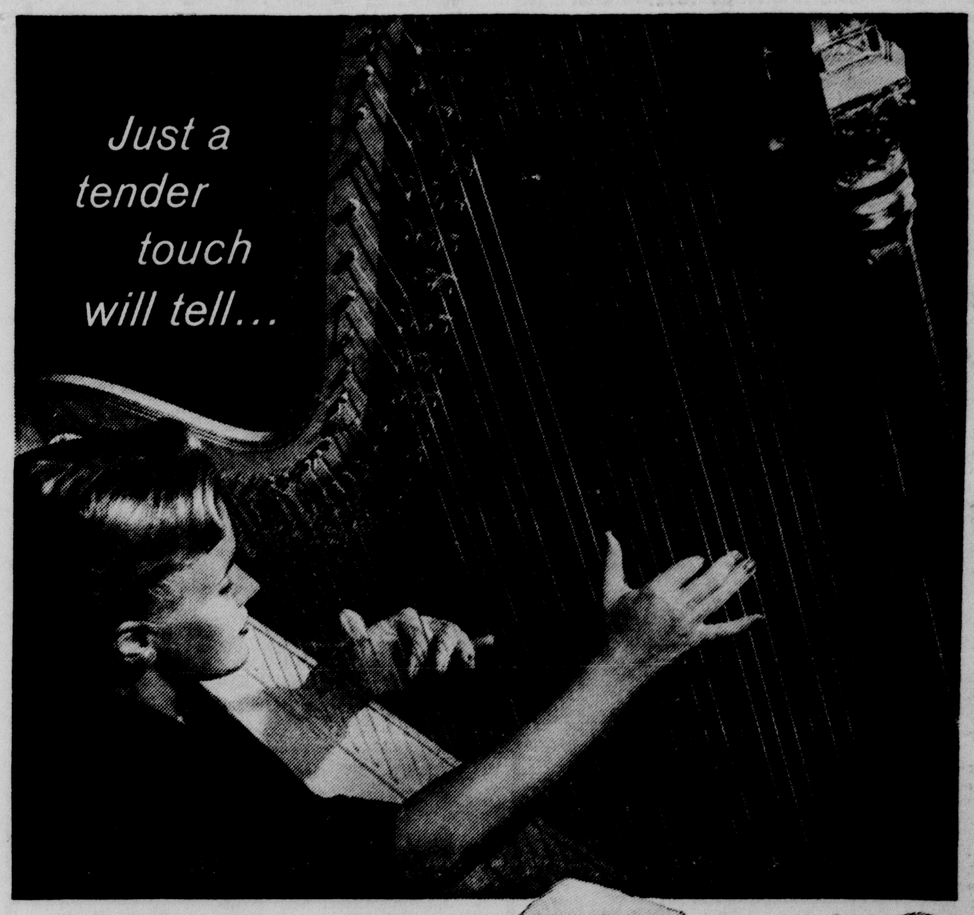

As an individual business owner I will not be called on to take a part in negotiations with the city as an employee of industry for power, water and sewer rates which actually constitutes a conflict of interests.

If you feel that my past experience and present ability qualify me for the office of mayor, then mark my name on the Republican ballot on Tuesday, February 28 next.

Sincerely,
Crit Haneline

Wesleyan Service Guild Meets At Murrayville

MURRAYVILLE—The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist church met Thursday evening at the home of Miss Bernice Harvey with eleven members and two guests present.

The meeting opened with the group singing "Sweet Hour of Prayer" and was followed with a prayer by the president, Mabel Seed.

Martha Joseph gave the worship service "What is the word."

The program with the same title was given by Charlotte Heaton. She used several pictures to illustrate the lesson.

Louise Jones of Pittsfield, the conference secretary was present and talked briefly to the members.

Roll call was answered with a "Lincoln quote."

A letter was read by Jane Rimbey and a certificate given in recognition of the study course that was completed in November.

During the business meeting it was voted to raise the pledge to missions. It was also voted to have a bake sale in the Legion Home on Saturday, Feb. 25 from 10 o'clock to 12 o'clock. Members of the arrangements committee are Donna Heaton, Nellie Tendick and Thelma Blimling.

The Spiritual Life chairman gave an article on "What is God" and the meeting closed with the guild benediction.

Mary Ellen Smock joined the group as a new member.

Those present were Carolyn Heaton, Louise Jones, Barbara Heaton, Nellie Tendick, Martha Joseph, Thelma Blimling, Beverly Heaton, Jane Rimbey, Mabel Seed, Mary Ellen Smock, Donna Heaton, Charlotte Heaton and the hostess, Bernice Harvey.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her mother. The next meeting will be with Londa McKnelly at a date to be announced later.

Personals

Mrs. Harold Million of Roodhouse spent Friday with Mrs. Ernest Million.

Mason's Grocery and Jenkinson Grocery Co. were omitted from the names of the business establishments which contributed to the success of the American Legion pancake and sausage supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hall and David and Jerry Hall were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hall and family at Carrollton in honor of the fourth birthday of their daughter, Vicki Jo. Other guests were Rev. and Mrs. Ben A. Bohn of Alton.

Mr. and Mrs. William Strawn of Chicago spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. T. G. Beadles. On Sunday the birthday of the former was observed with a dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John P. Beadles and sons and Mrs. Mozelle Irlam also present. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Heaton of Manchester.

RAYMOND WATSON
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE
for MAYOR

Primary Election
Tuesday, February 28

I BELIEVE in active and positive management of the trust imposed by the citizens of Jacksonville in their Mayor.

As Mayor I would maintain regular office hours at city hall.

Better coordination of city departments requires periodic staff meetings with supervisory personnel.

Work for the establishment of a personnel policy that will improve working conditions for city employees that will at the same time improve the services rendered to the people.

Bring up to date the 1908 City Code and in this connection the organization, function and duties of each council committee.

I BELIEVE THESE THINGS CAN BE ACCOMPLISHED BY THE COUNCIL AND THE MAYOR, WORKING IN HARMONY, FOR THE GOOD OF ALL THE CITIZENS.

I WILL DEEPLY APPRECIATE YOUR HELP

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Some first stirrings of business recovery are leavening today the midwinter statistical gloom.

Most of the figures tell how bad things are — or were when the soundings were taken.

But here and there are some dissenting voices. And here and there are some more hopeful statistics.

Loudest of the optimistic voices are in the stock market. For some time now they have been forecasting a return to better times. Rising stock prices have gone counter to the statistics. Often they have done this near the end of a recession.

Today's strong market tends to ignore the widespread drop in corporate earnings. It believes at least it is looking beyond the long decline in industrial output that has boosted the unemployment totals and brought depression itself to some areas.

But purchasing agents of many big corporations are saying that cutbacks in business activity, if not over, are at least in sight in many cases.

Current steel production — if only for one week—has climbed higher than in any week since last June. This admittedly is no boom since mid February's output is still 45 per cent below a year ago.

Some steel executives are cautiously predicting gradual improvement in demand as the year proceeds. Most have been on the soothsaying sidelines since their year ago overoptimism tripped them up.

Several home-building experts are forecasting a modest pickup in demand and construction. F.W. Dodge Corp., housing data collector, looks for some improvement, if mainly in apartment housing.

Mortgage lending at savings and loan associations has shown year-to-year gains for three straight months. The United States Savings & Loan League says one reason is that savings are running well over a year ago.

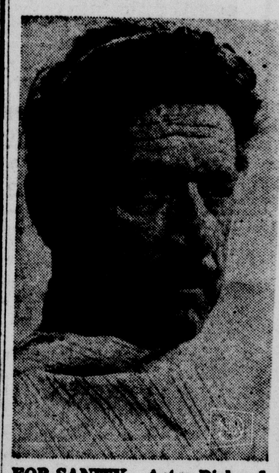

Much of the optimism in business circles as well as in the stock market is based on expectations of what Washington may do.

Lower mortgage interest rates are being pushed. Lower long-term interest rates in general are also the aim of the administration. And the Federal Reserve System apparently will lend a hand by entering the long-term U. S. securities market to keep yields moderate.

The administration also has taken some steps toward putting more spending money in some consumer pockets. It is urging Congress to take even bigger steps in that direction.

The auto makers as usual are building up optimism with spring only a month away. This doesn't hide the present large stocks in dealers' hands. But spring is supposed to help that. Meanwhile, steel men say, the auto makers are still holding back on ordering steel, just in case.

The recovery signs are thus faint at the moment. But those with an eye for them can find a few.

FOR SANITY—Actor Richard Boone—Paladin to you—gives the "Have Gun, Will Travel" role another year and then, to preserve his sanity, he says, he will try more creative work. For his next 39 shows CBS reportedly will pay him $1,100,000.

Toffee Squares

Look at what's comin' up for dessert! What are they? They're called Toffee Squares and are accompanied to this meal finale by scoops of raspberry ripple ice cream. It will be the discriminating hostess that will serve this smart twosome . . . ice cream and crunchy Toffee Squares.

When would you serve this combination? In most cases, let your conscience be your guide . . . after a buffet dinner, for the climax of a regal sitdown dinner, after a ladies' luncheon or as a teaser for a neighborhood bridge group.

Are they easily prepared? I there a long list of ingredients? Can they be made in advance? All these questions are important to the homemaker, and rightfully so. Here are the answers, ladies, so go ahead and plan on preparing Toffee Squares for your next dessert.

To prepare, first cream 3/4 cup lard and 1 cup brown sugar. Then add 1 unbeaten egg and blend well. Next add 1 teaspoon of vanilla. Sift together 2 cups of sifted enriched flour and ½ teaspoon salt. Add this to the lard mixture, blending thoroughly. Spread the batter in an ungreased 10 x 15-inch shallow baking pan. If you wish you can use two 8-inch square cake pans. Bake in a moderately hot oven (350° F.) for 20 minutes. Remove from the oven and sprinkle 8 to 10 ounces of chocolate chips over the top. Place in the oven for 5 minutes. Then spread the chocolate evenly with a knife and sprinkle ½ cup of chopped nuts and ½ cup of shredded coconut over the top. Cut into squares while warm. This recipe will yield about 32 Toffee Squares.

That's all there is to it.

You'll note that lard was used in the preparation of this baked product. Some homemakers may not be aware of how lard can be an invaluable helper in the kitchen. Lard is outstanding in its shortening power. It is as workable at room temperatures as at refrigerator temperature. Lard helps to keep baked products fresh longer. Lard is known to help produce cakes that have a tender crumb and feathery lightness. When baking cookies or bars as in these Toffee Squares, lard helps the product to retain its crisp texture. Best of all when you use lard in preparing the pastry for pies and tarts, you'll have a flaky tender crust that's hard to beat.

Jolly Neighbors Club Entertained At Koehler Home

The Jolly Neighbors Bunco Club met Feb. 16 at the home of Grace Koehler in Jacksonville. Minutes of the last meeting were read and the hostess read an article. Birthday gifts were exchanged as five marked anniversaries during February, Marie Reichart, Margaret Simpson, Mrs. Koehler, Mary Wilson and Nell Knepler.

Bunco was enjoyed with prizes for Margaret Simpson, bunco; Mary Jane Wilkinson, high; Marie Reichart, second; Alma Brehm, low and Nigel Edmonds, door prize.

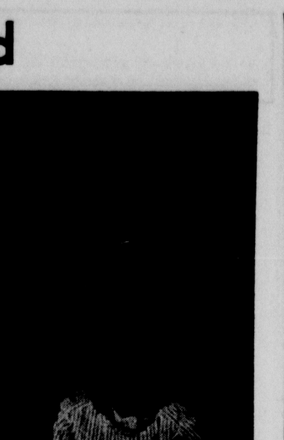

Guests were Margaret Simpson, Nell Knepler, Nigel Edmonds, Vertres Wilcox, Eunice Burger, Alma Brehm, Mary Jane Wilkinson, Dorothy Granner, Marie Reichart, Ruth Frank, and Mary Wilson. Violet Krieder was unable to attend. Danny Colwell was a guest. At the close of play lovely refreshments were served by the hostess.

Eleven members of Yale's unbeaten football team hope to play varsity baseball this spring. One of them is Ruly Carpenter whose father, Bob, is president of the Philadelphia Phillies.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

DISCARD COVERS SOUTH WEAKNESS

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written For NEA

Without going into the merits of either the opening spade bid or the jump to four spades, we can see that South faces the prospect of losing four tricks in top cards, but that if he can draw the trumps before anyone leads clubs he will be able to get rid of two of dummy's clubs and make his contract.

What is South's best method of accomplishing this purpose? One way is to ruff the diamond in dummy and lead a spade. Should East hold ace and one, East might duck, whereupon South could try to discard one club on the ace of diamonds and another on the fourth heart.

An alternate method is to win the first diamond with the ace and lead a trump. One of the opponents will win the trick and may not attack the club suit whereupon everything will be roses.

If this line is adopted it behooves South to make a deceptive play from dummy. He should discard a heart; not a club on the diamond ace.

This won't make any difference to him in the long run because he will still be able to get his two club discards, but is very likely to cause the opponent who gets the lead with the ace of spades to play a heart rather than a club.

What do you do?

A—Bid two diamonds. Two hearts or two spades is inadequate; three hearts too strong. Your partner is not likely to pass to two diamonds, but if he does you will not be missing a game.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner bids two hearts over your two diamonds. What do you do now?

Lauds Washington's Skill As Landscaper

"When I first saw Mount Vernon, I said to myself, 'This is the home of a gentleman,'" Courtney Crouch Wright, local landscape architect, said in discussing the subject, "George Washington As A Landscape Architect," for the Morgan County Garden Club at the Youth Center.

Mrs. Wright described homes and gardens in Virginia in Washington's day as "old hat" according to the English standards of the day which had undergone a change from the English Renaissance style, featuring the avenue approach with a direct path to the house, a double row of trees, and a flower garden near the house, to the Romantic type, which featured serpentine lines with three planting in clumps instead of straight lines.

Washington, a surveyor with the ability and the tools necessary for drawing up and executing a garden plan, combined the best features of both styles in his planting at Mount Vernon.

"Given the topography and the conditions under which he had to build, no one, then or now, could have done any better," Mrs. Wright said in conclusion.

After her lecture, Mrs. Wright gave a running commentary on colored slides of Mount Vernon and of English Renaissance and Romantic style gardens which she brought back from her tour of English gardens. Mrs. F. F. McCarthy assisted in this part of the program by showing the slides. Mrs. McCarthy, who was program chairman for the day, also introduced the speaker.

Farm Adviser Speaks

George Trull, Morgan County Farm Adviser, introduced the subject, "Pruning Small Shrubs," by saying that "pruning is an old and universal practice which has been in use in gardens ever since, if not in, the garden of Eden."

Mr. Trull distinguished between cutting and pruning by outlining the six purposes of pruning as: removing of dead, diseased, or injured wood, increasing the vigor of the tree or shrub, removing undesirable crotches, improving the shape, keeping the plant from growing too large, and cutting back tops in proportion to the roots when transplanting.

Mrs. Ogle Love, horticulture chairman, introduced Mr. Trull and also called attention to the horticulture table which featured forced shrubs and flowers.

Mrs. Frank Crawley, decorations chairman, called on Mrs. Eugene Dodsworth, Mrs. Harry Merriman and Miss Anna Mann to explain the methods used in making the arrangements they had on display.

Give Musical Numbers

Navanna Eyer, a local girl majoring in voice at Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington, accompanied by Priscilla Anderson, a piano major at the same school, sang as the first number in a group of four songs L'Amour De Moi, which she described as a fifteenth century song which compares love to flowers, an appropriate song for Sweetheart Month at a meeting of the Garden Club.

Nancy Hanks, sung as a memorial to Abraham Lincoln, a poem by Rosemary Benet, set to music by Katherine K. Davis. If I Loved You You from Carousel and Adel's Laughing Song from the Strauss operetta, Die Fledermaus, completed the musical program. Miss Charlotte Sieber, music chairman, presented the young artists.

Mrs. Roy Hopper, president, conducted the business meeting and gave a special welcome to the "Sweethearts" present. She also called for a moment of silent prayer in memory of Miss Minnie Wyatt, a member of the club, who died in Florida last week.

Mrs. Victor Kruse led in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, and Miss Anna Mann in the club prayer.

In Charge of Social Hour

Mrs. Mearle Kern was chairman and Mrs. Robert Taylor, co-chairman of the committee in charge of the social hour when Mrs. Murl Hardy, Winchester, and Mrs. Andrew Fox, Virginia, presided at the tea table which carried out the sweetheart theme in decorations and refreshments. Other members of the committee were Mrs. Henry Frisch, Mrs. Caroline Fuller, Mrs. Bessie Gibson, Mrs. Charles Gibson, Mrs. M. E. Gilbert, Mrs. Joy Goin, Mrs. J. I. Graham, Mrs. Glen Green, Miss Zelma Hackman, Mrs. Dallas Hagan, Miss Fern Haigh, Mrs. Robert Hartman, Mrs. Robert Headen, Mrs. Robert Hembrough, Mrs. Elizabeth Henderson and Mrs. L. C. Hess.

Guests present were Mrs. Paul S. Black, Mrs. Navalee Eyre, Miss Frances Frisch, Miss Constance Wilding, Mr. and Mrs. George Trull, Edmund C. Slaughter, Daniel Dietrich, Dale E. Braner, Frank J. Flynn, Ogle Love, Byron W. Stewart, Roy Hopper and Mearle Kern.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE

By Henry Farrell

Copyright © 1960 by Henry Farrell Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

XXVII

Slowly Mrs. Bates shook her head. "I—no, I don't think so." As she spoke, though, her gaze fell to the caption beneath the picture: Murder Victim. "Oh, no!" she breathed, repelled at the very thought that anyone of her acquaintance could ever meet with a violent or newsworthy death. "This—this isn't someone we know?"

"Yes," Harriett assured her. "Look again. Don't you see? It's the woman who cleans for the Hudson girls. There's her name—see—Stitt, Mrs. Edna Stitt. Every Friday I've seen her walking up the hill to their house."

Gazing down at the picture with reluctant recognition, Mrs. Bates nodded. "Terrible," she murmured.

Harriett nodded in the direction of the Hudson house. "Do you suppose they know yet? They just found her this morning—the police—in a ditch over in the park. They said she'd probably been there a couple of days."

Mrs. Bates shook her head; she felt suddenly empty and cold inside. It was hard for her to believe that people could really do such terrible things to each other.

"I never noticed whether they get the early edition or not." Harriett glanced down at the paper again. "Gives you a funny feeling, doesn't it? She was a widow, too, poor thing."

Mrs. Bates, making a brief clucking sound, let her gaze lift across the length of the garden to the Hudson house and the window at the center of the second story. Curiously, she had the impression that only a moment before the window had been open and the drapes pulled back. But now it was closed.

"What's the matter?" Harriet asked.

Mrs. Bates looked around. "Nothing," she said, "nothing." She forced her lips into a smile. "Come on in and we'll have a cup of hot tea. It's kind of windy."

Harriett nodded in quick agreement; the subject of Mrs. Stitt's mysterious demise had yet to be fully explored.

Mrs. Bates crossed to the open French door, motioning Harriett into the house ahead of her. Then, remembering, she glanced down at the piece of note paper still clutched in her hand. Crumpling it into a tight ball, she thrust it into the pocket of her smock and hurried inside.

Jane stood before the mirrored wall, close to the windows where the light was harshest, looking at herself with a steady, troubled stare. She saw clearly now that the finer, better self that had always awaited her just beyond the horizon of the next moment did not exist, had never existed and never would. The things she had done, the person she had become, could not be altered by mere wishing.

Lifting her skirt in a dainty gesture she placed one foot before the other and pointed her toe.

She knew it now; the tomorrow that contained the Jane Hudson she had always believed herself truly to be, would never dawn. Others had good reason to feel as they did about her. Blanche would always be afraid of her, would always want to escape her and leave her alone. Mrs. Stitt would be forever dead. Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow would contain always the horrors she had committed today, yesterday and the day before.

She had not been sane. She had begun to see that plainly. She had dwelt for a time in a world removed, utterly, from reality. But the impact of the full realization that she had actually killed another human being had released her from that world into the limbo of now.

But, meanwhile, what was she to do about Blanche? Her own freedom, it was now painfully evident, could be maintained only at the cost of Blanche's. If only she could make Blanche understand; if she could just make her see that the danger was over, that it was only a matter of being patient now a little longer. . . .

In the kitchen, she crossed to the table, pulled out a chair and sat down. Taking up a paper napkin, she dried the tears from her eyes.

By compulsion, her eyes lifted again to the cupboard. Giving up the drink had been a part of her penance. It had been hard, hard at first but then she saw that Blanche was getting better and seemed to be learning to trust her again, and it had been worth it. There had been the two of them again—no matter what had happened. Just as Daddy had said.

She was lost and doomed forever to a burning hell of unavailing remorse. Her madness had begun in her fear of losing Blanche, of losing, at last, Blanche's forgiveness. And it had ended in her bringing upon herself, finally and irrevocably, the very thing she had feared.

She stood before the cupboard, looking up at it. What was the use of anything? Pulling her hands loose, wrenching them apart with brutal suddenness, she reached up and threw open the door.

Ashland F.F. A. Boy Appears On TV Program

ASHLAND — Preston Newell, FFA Star Farmer of section 14, and Neal Coyle, chapter adviser of the Ashland FFA chapter, appeared on television last Friday on Channel 20, WICS, Springfield, at 5 p.m. The program is one of the series on "Education."

The theme of the program is "FFA Activities" and officially opened the FFA week in our area. Preston and Mr. Coyle presented a small part of the program. The rest of the program was presented by other FFA boys and advisers from all over the State of Illinois. The program promises to be one of interest to all in our farming community. It will be just one of the activities that the Ashland chapter will be carrying out during the coming FFA week. The highlight will be the annual banquet, which will be held Saturday, Feb. 25th.

Old Timers Find Fast-Shooting 'Untouchables' Far From Reality

By RUSSELL LANE

CHICAGO (AP)—"The Untouchables," a television series spun of fact and fancy around the career of the late Eliot Ness, has intrigued at least one group of fans—the real-life associates of Ness in his days as a Chicago prohibition agent.

Of the fast-shooting TV series aired by the American Broadcasting Co. each week, the old timers speak with some pain.

"The situations and the actions are preposterous," says Barney Cloonan who is, as far as he knows, one of the two survivors of the original Untouchables, or, as they called themselves, the Ness squad. The other living member, Cloonan says, is Marty Lahart who lives in Honolulu.

Cloonan admits he is fascinated by the antics of the TV untouchables, and says, "It was a great kick" when Robert Stack, the actor who portrays Ness, telephoned him from Hollywood during a party in Cloonan's honor a few weeks ago.

But, as for the television series, he says, there's no recognizable connection between it and the reality of the hard-working prohibition agents.

"We made raids, sure," said Cloonan. "We broke down some doors with a truck we had equipped with a length of street car rail for a bumper.

"But, all that submachinegun blasting in the television! The only thing like that ever happened was the St. Valentine's Day massacre. And, we had nothing to do with that, I assure you."

Cloonan said the untouchables, who numbered eight and nine at various times, carried pistols "for our own protection." Otherwise, armament was two shotguns which were never fired.

Cloonan said that Ness' squad concerned itself primarily with investigating leads on smuggling and interstate transportation of liquor and contraband; interstate conspiracy of gangsters to violate federal law, and collusion between mobsters and government officials.

"We generally turned over bootleg cases to the district prohibition bureau. Ness' group, under chief special agent Alexander Jamie, was a specialized squad which worked in cooperation with, but separate from the prohibition unit which E. C. Yellowley headed."

One of the Yellowley force, who asked that his name not be used because he is still a federal agent, recalled Ness as "a very nice young fellow who happened to be Jamie's brother-in-law."

"The toughest thing I ever saw him do was slam a Chicago telephone book on a desk top," this man said. "that was one time when he thought a 300-pound beer truck driver was insulting him.

He too, said he was a little horrified at all the shooting in the television show.

"An agent carried a gun, but it was against regulations to use it to intimidate or threaten anyone. In fact, if you got into a jam, it was a rule of thumb that you had to spot the other fellow the first shot.

Buddy McHugh, veteran crime reporter for Chicago's American, said the Ness group actually owed its nick-name to some anonymous policeman who coined it after receiving orders that the federal men were to be left strictly alone, no matter what they were doing.

McHugh, who says he has only seen a couple of the TV programs, said he thought the connection with the prohibition Ness squad was scarcely recognizable.

Another old-time reporter, James Doherty, formerly of the Chicago Tribune, said, "I remember Ness well—a good enough lad who didn't distinguish himself in any way in Chicago."

The television show has come in for considerable criticism from members of the public who were around when the deeds were enacted by the original cast. They resent so much fiction being embroidered into a rough pattern of fact.

Roodhouse Couple To Observe 44th Anniversary

ROODHOUSE — Mr. and Mrs. Lee Whitworth will observe their 44th wedding anniversary on Friday, Feb. 24. Ona Tilley, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tilley of White Hall, and Lee Whitworth, son of the late Mrs. Etta McGinnis, Roodhouse, were married in Carrollton. They have one daughter, Mrs. Leona Sweetin, Canton; and a son, Harold, Jacksonville. There are five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. Whitworth, now retired for two years, was employed by the railroad for forty years on the section.

No special celebration has been planned.

Hillview Legion Auxiliary To Make Gum Favors

The American Legion Auxiliary of Hillview met in the home of Mrs. Herb. Brickey, Feb. 16th for their regular meeting with President Lorraine Powell presiding. In the absence of Chaplain LaDonna Arnold, Olive Cotter gave the Prayer for Peace.

The reports on the different committees were heard in regards to the purchasing of dishes and silver-ware to be used for the annual picnic given by the Bryant-Thomas Post and its Auxiliary.

An invitation was given by Olive Cotter to the Rehabilitation Chairman Ruby Young, to have the members meet in her home March 9 to make candy and gum "favors" for the State Hospital in Jacksonville.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Clara Hazelwood, March 16th.

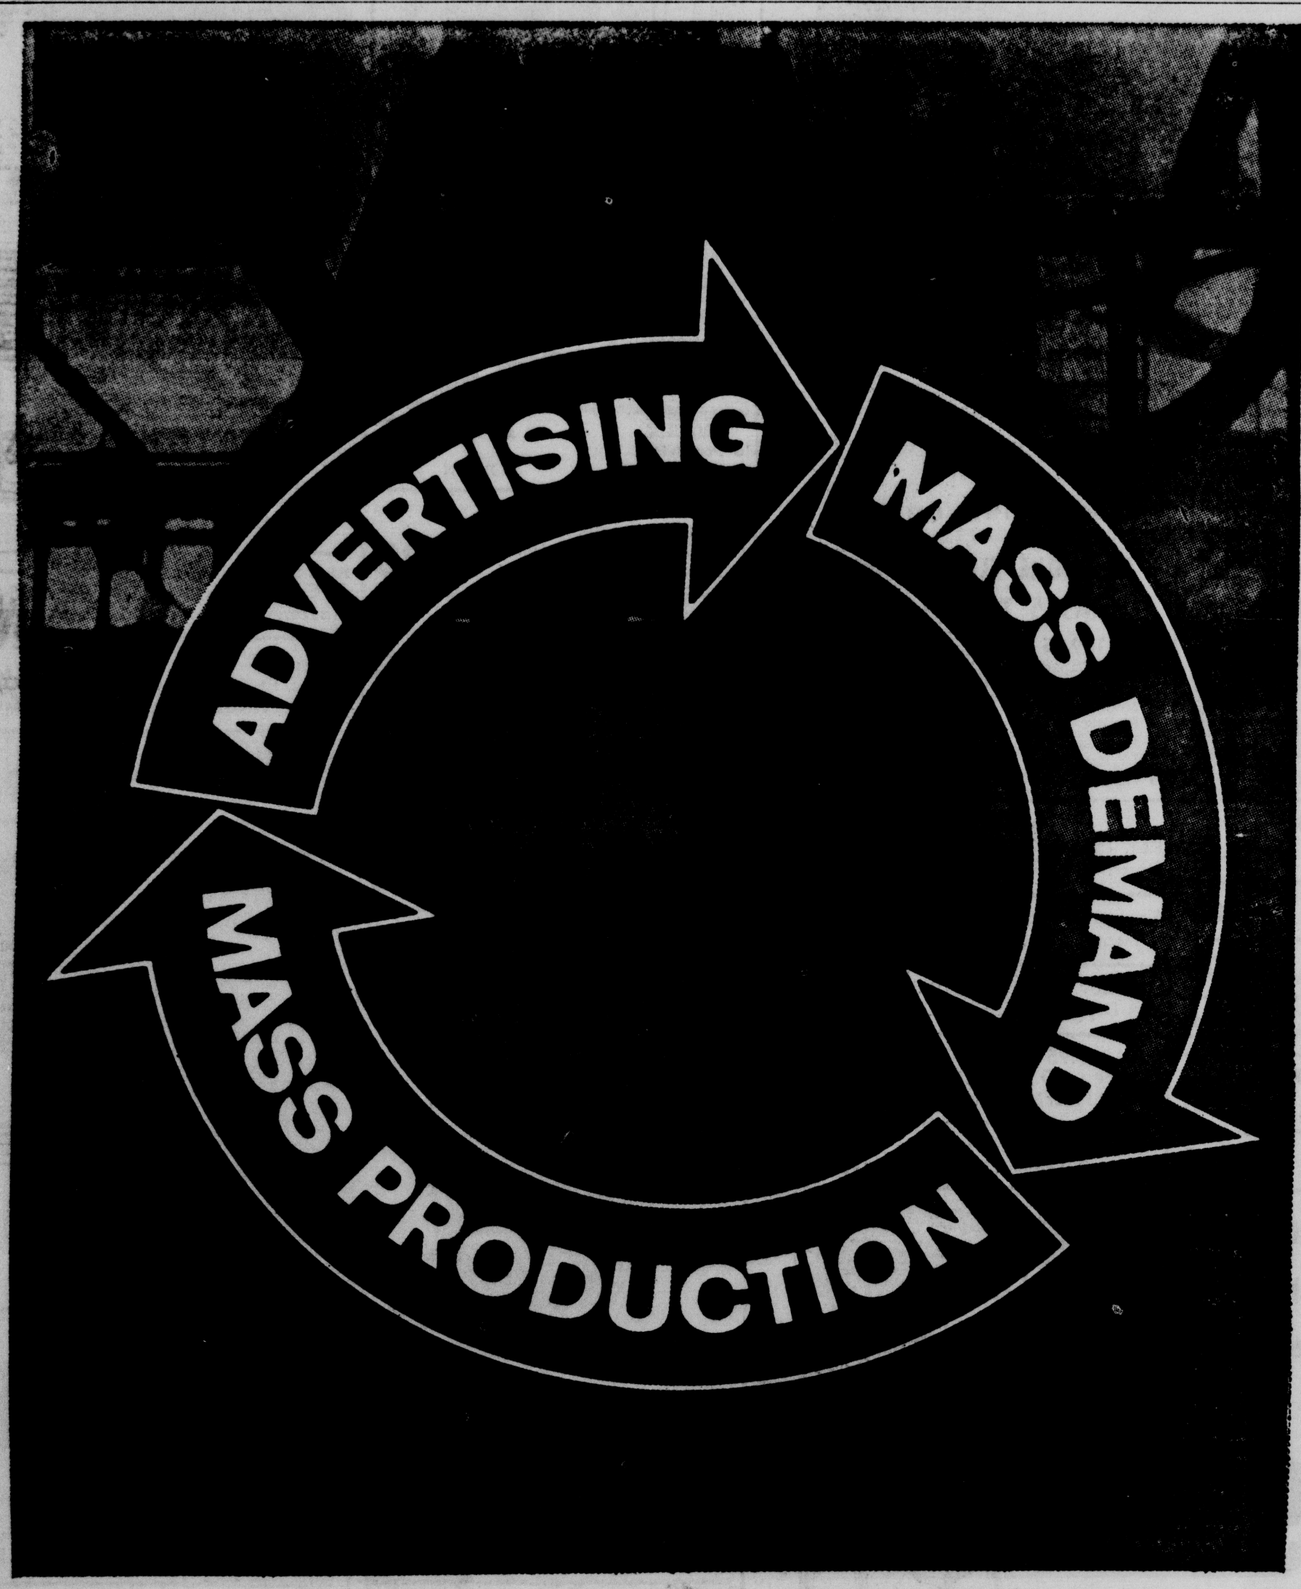

After the meeting adjourned a social hour was enjoyed, valentines were exchanged and refreshments served. Mrs. Brickey added to the festivities by the presentation of a beautiful heart shaped cake in red and white. Bingo was played and many nice prizes were given.

FAMILY HONORS MRS. KOEHLER ON 73rd BIRTHDAY

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ticknor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. James Koehler, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Koehler and Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Colwell and Danny and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Koehler and family.

Jim Tiller of Purdue and Pat Richter of Wisconsin had Big Ten games last season in which each caught seven forward passes.

Let's Keep Rolling Ahead

We Americans invented mass production, then we had to build mass demand to keep the wheels turning. For this purpose we called upon advertising – the most effective and economical means of creating mass demand. Soon we had more jobs, higher incomes, and better living conditions. And there isn't any limit to how much farther we can go, if we just keep it rolling!

First step to more egg income

Buying the right flock replacements is the first step toward higher egg income. You can be sure of that important first step when you buy the J. J. Warren Sex-Sal-Link from your Swift's Hatchery.

We believe—and we think the records prove—that the Sex-Sal-Link is the most outstanding brown egg layer on the market today, and the equal of any white egg layer. It averages 240 to 255 eggs per bird housed for a full year of lay, has good feed efficiency and egg size with low mortality.

This year, head for higher egg income with the famous J. J. Warren Sex-Sal-Link from your Swift's Hatchery. Order from us soon.

Propose State End 60-Day Cooling-Off Time In Divorces

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Two legislators Tuesday proposed abolition of the 60-day "cooling off" period in Illinois divorce cases.

Reps. Lee E. Daniels, R-Elmhurst, and William A. Redmond, D-Bensenville, introduced the bill. It would validate divorces granted during the effect of the present law.

The "cooling off" period was enacted in 1955, after more than a decade of controversy. It provides that 60 days must elapse from the date of the start of a divorce action to the actual filing of a complaint.

Rep. Rae C. Heiple, R-Washington, brought in a bill which would allow children between 14 and 16 to be released from attending school in order to accept employment upon request of their parents.

Rep. Paul Rink, D-Rock Island, filed a measure asking establishment of a University of Illinois branch in Rock Island County and appropriating $25 million.

Other bills introduced included:

Requiring tests for persons believed to have been driving while intoxicated and authorizing revocation of driver's license for refusal to take the tests.

Providing for ending daylight saving time on the last Sunday in September, instead of the last Sunday in October.

Creating a Chicago police board of five members appointed by the mayor, three of whom must be Chicago residents.

Making forcible rape punishable by the death penalty if the crime is accompanied by acts of violence or for rape of a minor.

Creating a criminal identification and investigation commission, which would make its files available to all law enforcement agencies.

Extending a one-cent per package tax on cigarettes so the revenue will go into the state's general fund after Korean bonuses are paid.

Abolishing all elective state officers except governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general.

Illinois Winners Of 1960 Freedom Foundation Awards

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP) — Several Illinois individuals, organizations and schools were honored by the Freedoms Foundation Tuesday night "for their work in helping to bring about a better understanding and greater appreciation of the American way of life during 1960."

Awards to top recipients will be made at special ceremonies Wednesday commemorating the 299th birthday of George Washington.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, former chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, will present cash and medals at the foundation's 12th annual awards program.

Winners from outside Cook County were:

Barrington — Barrington High School, George Washington Honor Medal Award in school category. Bensenville — Flick-Reedy Corp., George Washington Honor Medal Award in general category.

Elgin — Elgin Daily Courier News, George Washington Honor Medal in general category.

Peoria—Caterpillar Tractor Co., top award of an encased George Washington Honor Medal for national advertising; Caterpillar Tractor Co., George Washington Honor Medal Award for nonprofit publication, Caterpillar News and Views, with an identical award to its editor, Karl J. Wheatley; Les Immel, Peoria Journal Star, $100 and George Washington Honor Medal Award for his cartoon, "Prescribed for the American Way of Life"; Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, director of the Institute of International Studies, Bradley University, $100 and George Washington Honor Medal Award for public address, "Free Enterprise or Disaster"; Woodruff Senior High School, George Washington Honor Medal Award in school category.

Rockford—Bruce Espy, 1900 N. Rockton Ave., George Washington Honor Medal Award for youth public address, "The Battle for Freedom"; Rockford Chamber of Commerce, top award for distinguished service for a community program.

Springfield — Central Illinois Public Service Co., George Washington Honor Medal Award for non-profit publication, Cipsco News, with an identical award to its editor, Sam Scarpone.

Two of the 1960 awards jurors reside in Illinois. They are Mrs. Charles Hodges, national president of the American War Dads Auxiliary, Macomb, and Brig. Gen. J. Lafeton Whitney, USAFR, commander of the Military Order of the World Wars, Chicago.

Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman, Hinsdale, is a director of the Freedoms Foundation.

AFL-CIO Plans To Spur Home Construction

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The AFL-CIO announced Tuesday its unions are preparing to spur home construction by shifting $1 billion or more union assets out of stocks and bonds into middle income home mortgages.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said plans under way for a year are now about to be put into effect. The federation has established its own investment department to channel union treasury, pension and welfare funds into government-insured home mortgages.

Meany said the move has a three-fold aim, to put money into a safe and useful field that will draw better interest than government bonds, to bring down home costs, and to encourage construction and thus the entire economy.

He calculated the union mortgage investment would run to $1 billion minimum. He said nobody knows for sure how much unions have available in various funds.

Many funds are jointly administered by employers but Meany said he was confident they, too, would welcome an opportunity to help encourage construction activity, particularly employers in the construction industry.

The impact could be considerable. Martin E. Segal, New York pension fund consultant, estimated to buildings trades unions here last week there are about $50 billion in private pension fund reserves of various types.

Segal further estimated the reserves are growing at the rate of $3 billion to $5 billion annually.

Meany said that under plans outlined to the AFL-CIO Executive Council by Alexander Bookstaver, head of the new AFL-CIO investment department, union funds would be concentrated in mortgages on small homes of the $10,000 to $16,000 cost type — the kind bought by most workers.

Move To Legalize Bingo Launched In Illinois House

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A move to legalize bingo for religious, civic and fraternal purposes was launched Tuesday in the Illinois House.

Rep. W. M. Murphy, R-Round Lake, filed a resolution proposing an amendment to remove the state constitution's ban on bingo.

The Illinois Council of Churches is opposed to legalizing bingo and Gov. Otto Kerner has also said he is against it.

If the assembly approves Murphy's plan, it would be submitted to a statewide referendum for adoption or rejection in November 1962.

The resolution also provides that before cities, counties and townships could have bingo, voters of the community would have to approve.

Murphy said the local referendum would make it impossible for "hoodlums or undesirables to take advantage of this amendment."

He also said that despite laws against bingo, it has continued to operate in defiance of the law.

"Our children have a hard time understanding why it is all right for their dad's Legion post or their mom's PTA to operate a bingo against the law," Murphy declared.

He said his purpose in offering the resolution is to give Illinois voters an opportunity to express their sentiment on whether they want bingo.

In other developments, the House passed 161-4 a bill earmarking $5.1 in surplus driver education funds for state aid to schools. The bill advanced to the Senate for final action.

Jet Crashes, Four Airmen Killed

HORSE CAVE, Ky. (AP)—An Air Force B47 jet plane crashed while refueling in the air near here Tuesday night. There was one known survivor.

The plane went down with what area residents termed a "big flash" about 7.5 miles northwest of Horse Cave, near the Mammoth Cave National Park.

State police at nearby Bowling Green said there was one known survivor. The six-jet bombers normally carry a crew of five.

The plane was from Lockbourne Air Force Base at Columbus, Ohio.

Officials at Lockbourne said the plane was part of the Strategic Air Command's 301st Bomb wing. They said there were no bombs aboard the plane.

Names of the crewmen were withheld pending notification of kin.

Reject Proposal To Set Up State Finance Study

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois Senate Executive Committee Tuesday turned down a proposal to set up a special committee to examine state finances and see where economies might be made.

Republicans on the committee disagreed on whether such a study would be worth while.

Sen. Everett R. Peters, R-St. Joseph, said it would be a "waste of time and money" and would duplicate work being done by the Illinois Budgetary Commission. Peters heads the commission.

Sen. W. Russell Arrington, R-Evanston, who suggested the special commission study, declared there has not been an "intelligent survey" on economy in state government in years.

The executive committee voted 13-9 against Arrington's proposal.

GRAYVILLE FARMER KILLED

FAIRFIELD, Ill. (AP)— Martin Hodgson, 62, a Grayville area farmer, was fatally injured Monday when he slipped from the running board of a moving truck driven by his son, Ivan.

Coroner Robert E. McNeill of Wayne county said Hodgson fell as the truck was moving about 25 miles an hour at the west edge of Albion.

He died in Fairfield Memorial hospital. The two men were en route to Albion with a load of hogs.

ROMANOFFS GET DIVORCE

LONDON (AP)—Princess Emilia Romanoff Tuesday was awarded a divorce from Prince Vsevolode Romanoff, a first cousin of the last Russian czar.

The divorce was granted on ground of the prince's adultery. They were married in London in 1956.

Bishop Calls School Proposal 'Disappointment'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The education chairman of the National Catholic Welfare Conference said Tuesday the Kennedy administration's aid-to-education program is a "keen disappointment" to parents of children in nonpublic schools.

"It denies even the least bit of help to five million children excluded simply because their parents exercise their constitutional right by choosing for them education other than that of the state," Bishop Lawrence J. Shehan of Bridgeport, Conn., said in a statement issued here. Bishop Shehan is chairman of the Department of Education of the NCWC.

Kennedy Speaks At Conference On Physical Fitness

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy left a conference Tuesday and then dramatically returned to ask some foreign teachers to tell their countrymen something about "one of the oldest republics and one of the youngest peoples"—the United States.

Earlier Kennedy had pledged his administration to a program that will "inspire our country" to concern itself with physical fitness.

"We don't want in the United States a nation of spectators," Kennedy said. "We want a nation of participants in the vigorous life."

Then the President completed his formal speech to a conference on physical fitness of youth, left the building, changed his mind, rushed back, mixed with a group of foreign teachers, climbed back on the podium, and delivered an impromptu talk on education.

Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff had called the conference. The 100 regular delegates spent the day in group discussions on how to spread the gospel of physical fitness and on the part the government should play in the program.

Guests at the conference included 300 teachers from 67 foreign countries. They were concluding six months in the United States as part of an exchange program.

Shaking hand after hand, Kennedy re-entered the hall, climbed back onto the platform and delivered another little speech.

The schools in this country, he said, tend to place too much emphasis on learning about the kings of England and all the battles fought by France and England.

"They haven't placed great enough emphasis on the great events and the great men who figured in the history of the countries to the south of us, and in Africa, the Middle East and Asia," he said.

In his regular speech, Kennedy said he welcomed suggestions on "how to use the national government and its prestige to increase emphasis on this most important program."

He said that "because of the generosity of nature" in the form of creature comforts, there has been declining emphasis on physical well-being.

"I want to do better," he said.

The President, an all-around athlete in his youth and still an active golfer, sailor and occasional touch football player, called physical vitality "a valuable facet of our national character."

40 Injured As Train Derails Near Buffalo, N.D.

BUFFALO, N. D. (AP) — The Northern Pacific Railroad's crack passenger train—the Mainstreeter—derailed near here late Tuesday, injuring about 40 persons.

No fatalities were reported and observers said none of the injured appeared to be critically hurt.

The train, Mainstreeter No. 1, bound for the West Coast from Chicago, was going between 60 and 65 miles an hour. The first four cars of the 13-car train passed a switch about one mile west of here, but the last nine cars went off the tracks.

Seven hurtled through thick mud, and three skidded to a stop on their sides.

There were 51 persons in the coaches, seven in Pullman cars and 16 crewmen aboard the train.

"We bounced around like rubber balls, and I was shaken like a leaf," said Albert L. Nelson, Chicago, a passenger.

"There was a terrific crash," said Esther Ogren, St. Paul, Minn., Nelson's sister. "Then everything began turning around. I found myself on the floor, and the cushion I had been sitting on was on top of me."

The brother and sister, who had adjoining roomettes on the last car, were bruised about the head and legs.

The train ripped up 300 feet of track as it derailed. Cars rammed telegraph poles, ripping down railroad communication wires.

The injured were taken to Valley City and Fargo hospitals. Buffalo is 35 miles west of Fargo.

The train operates between Chicago and Seattle via Minneapolis-St. Paul. It left Chicago Monday night.

Observers at the scene said it appeared a broken rail caused the accident. NP officials would make no statement pending an investigation.

RECOMMEND FIRING STATE TROOPER JAMES AIELLO

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The State Police Merit Board said Tuesday it will recommend the dismissal of trooper James Aiello of Springfield, charged with participating in a $195 burglary.

Board members Raphael Yalden of Rockford and Lyle F. Tomlinson of West Frankfort, after holding a hearing, said they will recommend that State Police Chief William Morris fire Aiello.

Aiello, 27, has pleaded innocent to the burglary charge. Frank Stroble, 20, of Springfield, previously pleaded guilty in the case and has been placed on probation.

The burglary occurred last Dec. 31 and involved a gasoline station operated by the wife of State Police Maj. John Stuper. Aiello has been a state trooper for 3½ years and was assigned to the security detail at the governor's mansion.

POLICE INVESTIGATE FORCED ENTRY

Jacksonville police began an investigation Tuesday following a forced entry at the residence of Herman Freund, 6 Permac Road. A prowler broke into the Freund residence through a window on the west side of the house about 1 a.m. Tuesday morning and left via the rear door.

The prowler reportedly left the house without taking anything from the home.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The independence and initiative displayed by the smaller members in the United Nations during the Patrice Lumumba crisis has injected a new factor into Soviet relations with that body and has helped scotch some of the forebodings about the organization's future.

It isn't so much that they have, most of them, gone down the line for Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold as against the disruptive proposals of the Soviet Union.

It isn't so much that they have led the United Nations into a new and positive approach to the Congo situation, and that they have done so in such a fashion as to enlist the cooperation of the United States.

The striking thing is that, on Monday night, after 15 years in which the Soviet Union has been able to cripple the Security Council, their combined pressure forced the Soviets to abstain from use of the veto.

The Soviets had demanded U.N. withdrawal from the Congo. They were beaten on that.

Three smaller members, with approval of the Western powers, proposed instead that the U. N. hand be strengthened by the authorization of use of force. The way was led by Liberia, Ceylon and, significantly enough, the United Arab Republic which frequently follows the Soviet line. But they were speaking in the council for perhaps 15 other African and Asian states, not to mention the many members whose stand on the issue was never in doubt.

The Soviet Union, having twice used her veto during the evening, abstained. Seldom has the power of world public opinion, as mobilized in the United Nations, been so clearly displayed.

Prominent behind the scenes was India, whose offer to send more soldiers if necessary already had enhanced the rapidly growing influence which she holds among the nations which are committed neither to East or West.

Significant, too, was the promptness of the United States in accepting the leadership of the smaller nations when they came up with something akin to the proposals she herself had been prepared to submit.

Sanity and wisdom among the small nations beyond what many people had been inclined to expect, and a determination among them to choose a course that is right instead of trying to pick the winner, holds the key to the future of the United Nations.

It can also greatly ease the trouble of the United States, torn between traditional sympathy for the emerging peoples, while at the same time needing to foster her affiliation with colonial and former colonial powers.

Crush Anti-U.S. Demonstration In Rangoon

Steel-helmeted soldiers opened up with automatic weapons on a mob estimated at 10,000 persons outside the U.S. Embassy.

Bullets seriously injured five of the mob, which had proved too rough for police to handle.

Thirty-five rioters and three policemen were seriously hurt in earlier hand-to-hand fighting.

The demonstrators were protesting the supplying of U.S.-marked arms to Chinese Nationalist guerrillas holed up in the jungle along the Burma-Thailand border.

U.S. officials are investigating to determine how the weapons got to the guerrillas, former soldiers of Chiang Kai-shek. They stayed behind when Chiang's armies moved to Formosa after the Chinese Communists conquered mainland China in 1949.

Police threw up barricades 25 yards from the embassy and used tear gas bombs and fire hoses to fight off most of the rioters. Some, however, stormed the barricades and battled the police with sticks and stones.

The troops then rushed to the embassy. A government order banning gatherings of 10 or more persons was read but the demonstrators, believing the troops would not shoot, shouted anti-American slogans and moved forward.

The troops knelt and opened fire. Most of the shots were aimed in the air. The demonstrators fled.

About 2,000, however, then went on the rampage through the streets of Rangoon, stopping automobiles and smashing shop windows.

Balyki, Chandlerville Capture Decisions In Greenview District

Wednesday's Schedule
6:45 Greenview vs. Balyki
8:00 Easton vs. Chandlerville

GREENVIEW — Balyki won an overtime contest from Ashland, and Chandlerville swamped Tallula in the opening games of the Greenview District Tournament. Ashland winning 49-47 and Chandlerville 57-35.

The Ashland Panthers had to outscore Balyki 15-8 in the fourth period to tie the contest at 43-43, but Balyki scored 6 points to the Panthers 4 in the three minute overtime to eliminate Ashland from the tournament and end their 1960-61 basketball activities.

Chandlerville used a strong second half, 40 points to Tallula's 15, to win by the big margin and gain entry into the semifinals. Fielden led the Chandlerville attack with 19 points, while Hill was high man for Tallula with 10. In the first game, Witherall collected 21 for Balyki while Aggertt got 16 for Ashland.

CHARNLEY RETAINS LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE

STRETHAM, England (AP) — Dave Charnley of England retained his European lightweight championship Tuesday night by outpointing French champion Fernand Nollet in a 15-round bout. Charnley weighed 134¼ pounds and Nollet 135.

Charnley turned in a grandstand finish in the last round to clinch the verdict. He battered Nollet with a right hook and followed it up with vicious two-handed punching that had the Frenchman staggering on his heels.

Charnley, No. 1 challenger for American Joe Brown's world title, is scheduled to meet Brown in a title fight in London April 18.

BAUMAN SIGNS CHISOX PACT

CHICAGO (AP)—Pitcher Frank Bauman, who led the American League last season in earned run average with 2.69, Tuesday signed his 1961 Chicago White Sox contract.

The club said he got a "substantial" salary boost, but did not reveal how much.

Lefty Baumann, 27, fashioned a 13-6 record last season, the club's best won-lost mark as he appeared in 47 games both as a starter and reliefer.

The Pale Hose now have 26 of their 34 listed players under contract. Among those still unsigned are star infielders Nellie Fox and Luis Aparicio.

KRAMER SCRAPS PLAN

LONDON (AP) — Promoter Jack Kramer Tuesday scrapped his plan for a 10-game set at the Professional Tennis Tournament in London and decided to rely on the more orthodox best-of-three sets.

Kramer's troupe will play at the indoor Wembley Stadium March 24-25. The London tournament is part of the European section of the world series tour worth $117,600 in prize money.

LONDON (AP) — A man who can't read or write Tuesday won $58,000 in the British soccer pool.

He is 57-year-old Bill Pratt of London, who left school at the age of 13.

"I cannot even write. My wife, Nora, has to fill in my address on the pool's coupon. Names of football teams are the only ones I can read."

Pratt won his tax-free fortune for picking eight tie matches. He bet 70 cents on the coupon.

Return To Old Sweet 16 Tourney Proposed Tuesday

SPINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A return to the "Sweet 16" Illinois High School basketball finals at Champaign was proposed Tuesday in a bill offered by Sen. Paul Graham, R-Mattoon.

Under the present system, in effect since 1956, first round final games are held at eight centers around the state. The eight winners then advance to the University of Illinois for the final two days.

Graham's bill provides that beginning in 1962, all finals be played at the U. of I., and that management of the tournament be taken from the Illinois High School Association and given to the university.

A new field house, expected to be completed at the U. of I. next year, would permit 14,000 persons to see the finals, he said.

"Let's return the greatest show in basektball in the United States today to where it belongs," Graham declared.

In Chicago there was "no comment" from Al Willis, executive secretary of the Illinois High School Assn.

Bill Reed Likely Successor To Tug Wilson's Job

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten Tuesday appeared nearing a change in its athletic commissionership, with Bill Reed likely to succeed K. L. (Tug) Wilson.

The recommendation of Reed, 44, assistant commissioner since 1951, may come next week in Champaign, Ill., where the annual Big Ten March meetings open Thursday.

The change is based on the assumption that the general faculty plan in the conference of a 65-year retirement age will apply to Wilson. He will be 65 March 27. His current contract, calling for a base yearly salary of about $20,000, expires May 1.

Reed appears a solid choice to succeed Wilson, who became commissioner after the death of Major John L. Griffith in 1944. Wilson was athletic director at Northwestern 20 years, and since becoming commissioner has served in various athletic capacities with the NCAA and U.S. Olympics. Since 1953 he has been president of the U.S. Olympic Assn.

Reed is a 1936 graduate of Michigan.

Several other names have been dropped as perhaps being possibilities. Among them are athletic directors Fritz Crisler, Michigan; Dick Larkins, Ohio State; Stu Holcomb, Northwestern; Ernest McCoy, Penn State; associate director J. E. Weaver, Ohio State, and Paul Brechler, former Iowa director and now commissioner of the Skyline Conference.

The recommendation of Reed by faculty representatives to Big Ten school presidents is expected to came after a report next week by a screening committee headed by V. C. Freeman, Purdue faculty representative.

Working in conjunction with the committee are directors Doug Mills, Illinois; Red Mackey, Purdue; Ike Armstrong, Minnesota, Larkins and Crisler.

The presidents probably will make a decision at their regular meeting in Chicago in late April.

MT. STERLING — The Brown County Bombers entered the final period with a commanding 15 point lead over Ralph Davison's Beardstown Tigers but wilted under the pressure and committed too many fouls to be defeated in the last second on a pair of free throws by sophomore Gary Moss. The Bombers led all the way; by seven at the end of the first period, 12 at the half, and 15 going into the final stanza but Beardstown made 10 of 13 charity tosses and caught the Bombers with less than a minute to play. Moss was fouled and sank both shots for the Tigers' two point victory and at least a share of the Mid West Conference crown.

Marshall led the Tigers with 15 points, while Conners chipped in 13. Newell had 22 for Brown County and N. Kerley added 20.

College Briefs

CHICAGO (AP)—Western Michigan chilled Loyola's hopes for a post-season tournament berth Tuesday night, smacking the Ramblers 107-99 in a game decided from the free throw line.

Loyola (12-7) scored 42 field goals to 35 by the visitors but Western Michigan connected on 37 of 49 free throws to wrap up its ninth victory in 22 games.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Millikin dropped Augustana into the CCI cellar Tuesday night with a come-from-behind 82-74 basketball triumph. Millikin caught fire in the second half and pulled away to its third conference triumph against six losses. Augustana is now 2-7.

NAPERVILLE, Ill. (AP)—North Central knocked Lake Forest out of contention for the College Conference of Illinois basketball crown Tuesday night with a 73-72 victory on Gene Smithson's last second basket.

The loss gave Lake Forest a 6-4 season ending record. Carroll is the conference leader with 6-2 and Illinois Wesleyan is 6-3. The two leaders meet Saturday night at Wesleyan.

LISLE, Ill. (AP)—St. Procopius rallied in the second half to score a 76-68 basketball victory over Shimer College Tuesday night

Referee Thinks Ingemar 'Goofed' In Second Round

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Referee Art Mercante believes Ingemar Johansson missed his big opportunity in the second round of his second round of his second heavyweight title fight with Floyd Patterson last June 20.

It was in the second round that the Swede nailed Patterson with a right high on the forehead. Patterson appeared hurt and retreated. Instead of tearing in like he did in the first fight, which he won on a third round technical knockout, Johansson moved in slowly and carefully with his left hand extended. By the time he reached Patterson, Floyd had regained complete control of his senses.

Patterson, who finally won on a fifth round knockout, maintains that the right was a good shot but that he knew what he was doing and played possum in hope that Johansson would get careless. Johansson, after looking over the movies, said he should have followed up.

Mercante, a handsome, young official who worked the second fight, agrees with Johansson.

"When a fighter is hurt he either retreats or holds," said Mercante in warming over the fight at a boxing writers luncheon. "If he's hurt real bad, he instinctively holds. If he's hurt, but can rationalize, he will retreat.

"Patterson was hurt, but he still could rationalize. He retreated, but his eyes looked glazed. If Johansson had been more alert he would have had him. Instead, he came in slowly and by the time he got to Patterson, Floyd's eyes had cleared and he was aware of what he was doing."

TROTTERS TO RESUME

CHICAGO (AP) — The Harlem Globetrotters, after a two - year lapse, will renew their spring tour against a college all-star squad this April, owner-coach Abe Saperstein disclosed Tuesday.

A 20-game series, beginning April 2 in Chicago Stadium, will be played against top graduating stars from the nation's 1961 college cage crop.

Saperstein dropped the series in 1959 and 1960 to avoid distracting college talent from the Pan American and Olympic Games. The Trotters won all nine previous coast-to-coast tours.

ANNOUNCE MEMORIAL FUND

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Plans for a memorial fund for members of the U.S. figure skating team and coaches perishing in a Belgian airliner crash were announced Tuesday.

Funds will be gathered by the Broadmoor Skating Club here. William R. Haigler, club president, said the fund will be national in scope and if enough money is subscribed, a memorial scholarship will be set up to help future figure skaters with their educations.

Eight Colorado Springs residents died in the crash last Wednesday, among them four of the 18 members of the United States team.

OUTSWIMS RIVAL

BRISANE (AP) — Dawn Fraser, the Olympic titleholder, beat Ilsa Konrads Tuesday night in the women's 100-meter freestyle event of the Australian Swimming Championships.

Miss Fraser's winning time of 1 minute, 1 seconds was excellent but a personal disappointment since she had hoped to crack the one-minute barrier. Miss Fraser's world record is 1:00.2.

Miss Konrads finished second in 1:05.2, followed by Helen Bartier, 1:05.8.

The Carolina League All-Star game is set for Thursday night, June 29.

Exchange Club Sees Horse Show Film Monday

President Roger Olson presided at the Monday evening meeting of the Jacksonville Exchange Club held at the Dunlap Hotel. Program chairman Charles Warzar and Larry Omundson introduced William Hudson and son, William Jr. to the club members.

Hudson, a breeder and shower of Shetland ponies, showed a film of contests throughout the United States involving his ponies. The national grand champion selected at the DesMoines Horse Show sold for $56,000. The Hudson's stallion in contest with the above champion won in five showings.

Clyde Fitch was the winner of the free meal drawing.

Advancements Made By Cubs At Jefferson

South America was the theme at the last meeting of the Jefferson School Cub Scout Pack 105. A film was shown in conjunction with the theme and a number of advancements were recorded by Cubs with awards made.

R. E. Jackson conducted the advancement ceremonies. Den two was in charge of refreshments served during the social period. Mrs. William McCurley, Den 2 mother, assisted by Mrs. Ray Samples and Mrs. Ralph Dennis served.

Craft work of the boys was displayed and plans made for a window display and Church Attendance Sunday and the Blue and Gold banquet in February.

X15 FLIGHT CANCELLED

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Only three minutes before the X15 rocket plane was to be dropped from a B52 mother ship over the desert, its flight was canceled Tuesday because of a pressure malfunction.

The sleek craft was expected to set a world speed record of about 2,650 miles an hour in the flight, the first in a series aimed at reaching 4,000 m.p.h. and altitudes of 50 to 100 miles this year.

The Air Force said pressure in the pilot's cockpit failed. Cause of the malfunction was not immediately determined.

CACAO GROWERS TO VISIT CHINA, RUSSIA

BAHIA, Brazil (AP)—Members of the cacao growers cooperative —largest cacao producer in the hemisphere—have accepted an invitation to visit Red China and the Soviet Union. No dates were announced.

Former infielder Wayne Terwilliger will manage the Greensboro Yankees in the Carolina League this season.

Nine Players Get Into Scoring Act In 87-52 Triumph Over I.S.D.

GREENFIELD — Coach Ken Azbell's Greenfield Tigers closed out their 1960-61 regular season Tuesday with a resounding 87-52 victory over the Illinois School for the Deaf. Greenfield outscored ISD in every period and poured in 30 points in the second stanza to give them a 21 point lead at half time. The Illinois Deaf Tigers had their best eight minutes in the first period, but scored only 17 points to Greenfield's 23.

Ron Short collected 24 points for the winning Greenfield quintet, and eight other men joined in the scoring spree. The Illinois Deaf, noticeably minus the services of ace Bob Poncar, were topped by freshman Bruce Jackson with 14 points and Earl Claussen added 13.

Greenfield finished their season's schedule with an 18-6 won-lost mark, while Coach Jim Bond's Tigers have a 3-17 record.

The Illinois Deaf junior varsity downed Greenfield's Jayvees, 60-45.

Racing Provides 24 States Record 254 Million $$

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—American racing enthusiasts turned out 47 million strong in 1960 and provided 24 states with a record 254 million dollars in revenue.

The total revenue to states was about 10 million dollars more than during 1959.

The National Association of State Racing Commissioners, which released the figures Tuesday, said the revenue came from 6,099 racing days in thoroughbred, harness, quarterhorse and fair events.

The parimutuel turnover in the 24 states was $3,310,712,316, compared with $3,246,154,581 in 1959.

The largest chunk of the 1960 turnover—more than a billion dollars—came from New York State.

California was second, with $481,815,111.

New York also led the NASRC list for providing the most state revenue—$97,091,044.

Angered Fighter Leaves For Home

TORONTO (AP)—British heavyweight Brian London left for home late Tuesday, forcing the cancellation of his 10-round bout with Canadian Champion George Chuvalo.

London had threatened to leave after Monday night's scheduled fight was postponed when Chuvalo became ill with stomach flu. Promoter Frank Tunny rescheduled the fight for next Monday but London didn't want any part of it unless Tunney deposited a $12,000 guarantee by Tuesday afternoon.

Tunney refused and the 26-year-old Briton, accompanied by his father and brother, took off by plane for New York. They are scueduled to leave there Tuesday night for home.

RAMS SIGN McKEEVER

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams Tuesday signed their No. 1 draft choice, Marlin McKeever of the University of Southern California.

Marlin was an All-America end in 1959 but Ram Coach Bob Waterfield said he is thinking of using him as an offensive guard or linebacker.

Federal Judge Revokes Bail For Carbo, Aides

LOS ANGELES (AP)—In a surprise move, a federal judge Tuesday revoked bail for underworld boxing boss Frankie Carbo and three of his four co-defendants in a conspiracy-extortion trial.

Judge Ernest A. Tolin approved Special Prosecutor Alvin M. Goldstein's request to send the men to jail for the duration of their trial.

Ordered into custody in addition to Carbo were Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Philadelphia fight promoter, and Joe Sica and Louis Tom Dragna, Los Angeles gambling figures.

Truman Gibson Jr. of Chicago, president of National Boxing Enterprises Inc., was permitted to remain at liberty on $5,000 bond.

The five were alleged to have tried to muscle in on the purses of former Welterweight Champion Don Jordan.

Asked why he requested the defendants be jailed, Goldstein's only comment was: "Let the indictment speak for itself."

Unbeaten Kahoks Maintain Hold On Top Rating

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Collinsville's unbeaten Kahoks maintained their hold Tuesday on the No. 1 rating in The Associated Press poll of Illinois high school basketball teams.

Two changes in top positions advanced Pinckneyville to fifth and Chicago Carver to seventh.

One newcomer to the ratings was Danville Schlarman, which took 16th, Sterling dropped out of the list.

The top 16 teams with won-lost records:

1.	Collinsville	22-0
2.	Centralia	22-1

Gain Impressive Tennis Victories

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Darlene Hard of Bakersfield, Calif., and two British women stars gained impressive victories Tuesday in the second day of competition in the St. Andrews International Tennis Tournament.

Playing in strong winds that made accurate stroking difficult, Miss Hard won easily from Linda Vail of Oakland, Calif., 6-0, 6-4.

Ann Haydon of Britain made short work of Jamaica's No. 2 woman player, Mrs. Joan Arscott, 6-0, 6-1, and Christine Truman overpowered Gay Milliner, Jamaica junior champion, 6-0, 6-2.

Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., took the first set from Suzy Kormoczy of Hungary 6-3, but the remainder of the match was postponed.

LEADING PUNTER

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Norton of the St. Louis Cardinals won the National Football League punting title in 1960, official final statistics showed Tuesday.

Norton averaged 45.6 yards for 39 punts. Bob Green of the Pittsburgh Steelers was second with a 44.2 average for 64 punts. Green had the longest kick of the season, 75 yards. Norton's best effort was 62 yards.

Top-Ranked Buckeyes Within 3 Victories Of Perfect Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Ohio State Buckeyes are within three victories of a perfect regular season Wednesday while maintaining a firm grip on the top of the Associated Press basketball poll.

The Buckeyes posted victory No. 21 Monday night, defeating Indiana 73-69. This latest triumph came on the heels of Ohio State's come-from-behind success against Iowa, 62-61, Saturday.

It was the Iowa game that kept the Buckeyes in first place in the poll for the 11th straight week. Voting was based on games through Saturday and Ohio State for the 10th week in a row was a unanimous choice of the special panel of sports writers and broadcasters, getting 36 votes.

Unanimity was the order of the week as St. Bonaventure, with a 20-1 mark, grabbed all the votes for the runner-up spot. The Bonnies, beaten only by Ohio State, turned back Providence and DePaul last week.

There were no newcomers in the top 10, although there was a mild shakeup of position. Cincinnati moved up one place to third and Bradley advanced a notch to fourth. The Bearcats whipped Wichita and Tulsa and the Peoria, Ill., Braves won over Notre Dame, Houston and North Texas.

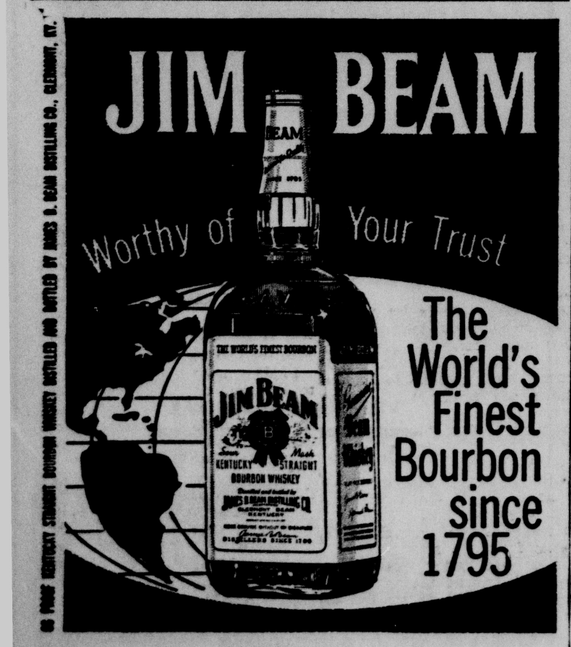

Iowa climbed from ninth to fifth on the strength of its fine showing against Ohio State and a victory over Wisconsin. Duke fell three places to sixth. The Blue Devils lost to Wake Forest and Maryland.

North Carolina, Kansas State, West Virginia and Southern California round out the first 10. Kansas State slumped two places, as did Southern California. West Virginia, winner over Penn State and Pitt, moved up one position, while North Carolina stayed put.

Ohio State's remaining games are against Wisconsin Saturday, Michigan State March 4 and Illinois March 11.

The top ten, with won-lost records through Saturday and first place votes in parentheses (points 10-9-8 etc. basis):

1.	Ohio State (36)	(20-0)	360
2.	St. Bonaventure	(20-1)	324
4.	Bradley	(19-4)	191
5.	Iowa	(14-4)	153
6.	Duke	(18-4)	150
7.	North Carolina	(18-4)	144
8.	Kansas State	(16-4)	118
9.	West Virginia	(20-3)	104
10.	Southern California	(16-4)	72

Petersburg, Athens Share Abe Lincoln Conference Title

Abe Lincoln Conference play ended for the 1960-61 campaign last week. Petersburg's Bluejays and the Athens Warriors tied for first place honors. Greenview and Easton shared third place.

The big game in conference activity last week was Easton's invasion of Greenview. Easton had a chance to gain a share of the title, but the Bulldogs avenged an earlier defeat in whipping Easton by an 8 point margin.

Petersburg played one game last week, downing Meredosia by 10 points. The Meredosia win was the sixth for the Jays.

Athens had a successful week as they added Pleasant Plains and Mt. Pulaski to their win column.

The six remaining Abe Lincoln teams will do battle this week at Greenview in the district tourney. The winner will go on to the Havana Regional. Easton and Greenview drew first round byes. They are favored to meet for the title. If they do, it will be their third meeting with each claiming an earlier win over the other.

SAYS ILLINOIS DUE FOR RECORD BUDGET, MAYBE TAX HIKE

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Illinois is due for the highest budget in its history plus a possible hike in taxes, James A. Ronan, state director of finance, said Tuesday night.

Ronan said the Public Aid Commission, seeking a $67.3 million emergency appropriation in the Legislature, should not be blamed for running short before expiration of its two-year budget period.

The PAC submitted the right figures to former Gov. Willaim G. Stratton who cut the budget, Ronan told the Macon County Democratic Women's Organization in Decatur.

Ronan, Illinois Democratic chairman, did not specify taxes he thinks will be increased but said:

"We're going to have to raise taxes somewhere. We don't want to, but we may have to."

Stratton's budgets put Illinois in its current financial dilemma, Ronan charged.

ACT TO TAKE MONEY FROM ONE STATE POCKET TO ANOTHER

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois House has acted to take $5.1 millions from one state pocket where it is not needed and put it in another.

The House sent to the Senate Tuesday by a 161-4 vote the first bi-partisan bill to help ease the state's overall financial strain and the shortage of common school funds in particular.

The $5.1 million is money surplus in the state driver education fund. A bill was needed because the fund, derived from part of the $1 annual driver license fee, is earmarked.

The transfer, subject to expected approval by the Senate and Gov. Otto Kerner, will make a deficiency appropriation for the common school fund unnecessary and will permit payment of state aid claims at 100 per cent.

fighting extradition to North Carolina.

Also charged in the 1955 case is Fruent C. Kimes, serving a 20-year sentence in the federal penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga.

Rothschild is serving a burglary conspiracy sentence in a South Carolina penitentiary in Columbia and is awaiting the start of a life sentence in Georgia for a robbery-slaying.

It was reported that federal officers would transfer Kimes to Marshall for trial and that Rothschild's extradition has been sought.

The charges stem from the Sept. 28, 1955, robbery at Carson Lawson's home and store in the mountain community of Shut In.

Solicitor (prosecutor) Robert S. Swain gave this account:

Three men entered Lawson's home and bound him, his 80-year-old mother, Mrs. Joe Lawson, a brother-in-law, Ed Church; and his sister, Mrs. Church, with baling wire. The men threatened Lawson in an effort to make him tell them where he kept his money.

Lawson suffered a fatal heart attack while being threatened.

The three men found $40,000 and took it, but overlooked another $29,000 in a cigar box.

Sheriff Ponder said Solicitor Swain broke the case with Rothschild's statement which implicated the others.

"He's traveled all over the country trying to solve the case and bring the three to trial," Sheriff Ponder said of Swain.

Garner was brought here under an agreement that he would be returned to Illinois after the trial to complete his sentence there.

DISTRIBUTE APPLES ON WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

SALEM, Ill. (AP)— Teachers distributed 2,150 apples today in Salem public schools in keeping with a Washington's birthday tradition started in 1899.

Apples were originally distributed by Joseph and Frank Schwartz from their orchard near Salem and Joseph's daughter, Mrs. Christine de Linck has continued the custom.

Mrs. de Linck, who lives in Sacramento, Calif., ordered more than 20 bushels this year. She is the wife of Lt. Col. Martin J. de Linck.

Orders for apples have come every year from wherever the de Lincks have been stationed. One year they were in the Panama Canal zone.

Mrs. de Linck said she hopes to preserve the memory of her father, a former Salem mayor and a graduate of Salem high school's first class in 1887.

segregated society. Our color won't rub off."

There were three sit-in protests in the Sumter demonstrations. Most of those arrested were paraders who refused to return to the Morris College campus.

There was no immediate effort among the Sumter Negroes to post bonds of $100 each.

In Atlanta, the "jail, no bail" campaign of Negro students arrested about two weeks ago weakened slightly when nine posted $100 bonds on trespass charges in connection with sit-ins. But 70 students chose to remain behind bars.

In a federal court civil rights trial at Opelika, Ala., a Macon County voter registrar denied that he knowingly made it more difficult for Negroes to register than for white persons. "They all look alike to me," said Wheeler Dyson.

Federal attorneys charged that Negroes were systematically denied the ballot in the black belt county where Negro residents outnumber white persons 6-1. Twice as many white persons as Negroes are registered voters.

RETURN OF LOOT SOLVES ONE OF SLICKEST HOLDUPS

Eugene John Snyder, 33, jobless Fort Lauderdale salesman, Tuesday, handed a sack of bills to John O'Keefe, manager of a Flagler Federal Savings and Loan Association office.

"This is the money I stole yesterday," said Snyder, and began weeping.

Snyder said he spent only $20 of the $4,577 he obtained Monday by showing teller a pistol wrapped in a newspaper.

"I needed money for groceries and medical bills. I was desperate," Snyder said.

"I only needed $300. When I looked in the bag and saw all that money I was shocked. I stayed awake all last night thinking about it. Then I decided to bring the money back."

Snyder said his wife is ill. He said the gun he used in the holdup was not loaded.

Snyder was held on $20,000 bond.

Order New Trial On Charges Of False Arrest

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Third District Appellate Court has ordered a new trial of two Danville police officers accused by Samuel M. McKendree of false arrest and imprisonment.

The Vermilion County Circuit Court had directed a verdict in favor of the two officers and Police Chief Robert W. Christy.

The Appeals Court Tuesday said Christy was in no way involved but said there was sufficient evidence on the face of it to sustain McKendree's claim of false arrest and imprisonment.

In other setbacks for lower courts, the Appellate Court:

Reversed Christian County Circuit Court which had upheld the Board of Education of South Fork Community High School District No. 310 in Christian County in the dismissal of a teacher, Lesah Jouett Allione, on a finding of insubordination. The Appeal Court said evidence did not sustain the finding.

Reversed the Champaign County Circuit Court verdict in favor of Earl T. Livesay and against the estate of the late Carl M. Johnson in connection with an auto collision. The appeals court said the evidence was sufficient for submission to a jury.

Work To Clear Track Ripped By Derailment

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Crews worked today to clear a quarter mile of track ripped up when a Chicago-bound Northwestern Railway freight train left the tracks Tuesday night. No injuries were reported.

Twenty-three of the train's 31 cars were derailed. Railway spokesmen said a broken rail caused the accident.

No damage estimate was available immediately.

The cars that left the tracks hurtled into abutments supporting a wooden bridge used as an automobile overpass. The bridge buckled, but Winnebago county sheriff's deputies said a car passed over the bridge safely before the span could be closed to traffic.

The train, which originated in Freeport, was engineered by W. W. Brown, 63, Chicago. The accident scene was on the southern limits of Rockford.

Youth Kills Parents

Jean Ann Taylor, 20, of Orem, Utah, was in serious condition at Weaverville hospital.

Undersheriff Leonard Adams said "We can't understand it. The father was an elder in the Mormon church. Daryl is the secretary of his troop and an Explorer Scout. They were decent people."

Wilson said Daryl told this story:

"He said he had been planning to kill his father for a week or so and finally decided Saturday to do it.

"He went into his parents' bedroom shortly after midnight and put the rifle next to his father's head and shot him.

"The mother woke up screaming. The boy slammed his mother with the gun, then shot her.

"By this time the girl, Miss Taylor, was screaming. Daryl shot at her, missed, then clobbered her over the head with the gun stock."

Daryl was asked why he killed his mother.

"I didn't like her much either," the boy replied.

Await Tests On Cause Of Alton Woman's Death

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — Madison County authorities were awaiting the outcome of a complete post mortem examination to determine the cause of death of a twice-married Alton woman, last seen alive with her husband, a soldier reported AWOL from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

The body of the dead woman, Mrs. Kathleen Joyce Buchanan, 21, was found Monday night, lying face down on the bed in her three-room apartment in Alton.

Police Chief John M. Heafner said she had apparently been dead since Saturday.

Her husband, SP.5 Ronald Buchanan, 23, had called for his wife and her aunt, Mrs. Mary Schneider of Alton, Saturday morning after the two women finished work at a glass factory in Alton, the aunt said.

Mrs. Schneider said the three had breakfast, Buchanan took her home in his car and drove away with his wife.

Mrs. Schneider and other relatives went to the Buchanan apartment after they became worried about not hearing from Mrs. Buchanan.

A brother-in-law, Max Locoax looked in a window of the apartment and saw the body. Alton police were summoned and forced their way in.

Mrs. Buchanan had an 8-month-old son by her second husband and a son from a previous marriage. Both children lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Curry of Alton.

Buchanan was reported absent without leave as of midnight Monday when a five-day leave expired. Military and civil authorities were trying to locate him.

Dr. W. W. Billings, Madison County coroner, ordered a further examination by a St. Louis laboratory Tuesday after the first phase of an autopsy was inconclusive.

A complete report is expected later this week.

Tired Tourists Gripe Loud, Long At Air Strike

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tired, disgruntled tourists were griping loud and long at Miami International Airport today because they can't bring an end to vacations many wish now they hadn't taken.

Mrs. Charles Ackerman of Dover, N.J., carried one son, Kenneth, 11 months, and made a frantic effort to keep track of Michael, 2.

She was angry and "sick of spending all day at the airport and hunting for a hotel room at night."

"We were supposed to fly home Saturday after three weeks vacation here," Mrs. Ackerman said. "I don't know when we will get home."

Hotel rooms were available but many of the visitors complained about the prices, which are at their peak in this part of the winter season.

E. H. May, president of the Engineering Manufacturing Co. of Sheboygan, Wis., said his wife was accompanying him on a business trip to Puerto Rico when they were stranded in Miami.

"We will have a nice little vacation in Miami while we're waiting," said Mrs. May. "It's nice to be out of the cold weather."

Airline Engineers Take Poll

J. Goldberg, who said the airlines had promised there would be no disciplinary action against the strikers.

The commission, which is to report to the President within 90 days, consists of three professors—Nathan Feinsinger of the University of Wisconsin, chairman; Richard Lester of Princeton and J. Keith Mann of Stanford.

Ronald A. Brown, president of the Flight Engineers' Association, said the crux of the situation is whether the findings of the commission would supersede a decision by the National Mediation Board that touched off the strike.

That decision ordered members of the union and the Air Line Pilots' Association at United Air Lines to vote for a single union as their bargaining agent.

Pilots outnumber engineers by more than three to one, and the engineers fear the ruling might lead to the eventual death of their union.

Goldberg has stressed, however, that the mediation board's decision in the United case is not necessarily applicable to other airlines.

Oddly enough, United is the only major transcontinental airline not hit by the strike. Its flight engineers are pilot-trained and some belong to both unions.

Six Space Successes In A Row

Mercury man-in-space capsule on its most severe test and advanced the day when an American astronaut will take a rocket ride.

The capsule, streaking 12,850 miles an hour, shot 107 miles up and was subjected to the worst conditions an astronaut might encounter on a return from orbit. The spacecraft was recovered in excellent condition 1,425 miles down range.

Shortly after the recovery, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration picked astronauts John Glenn, Alan Shepard and Virgil Grissom to begin final training for a suborbital flight in a similar capsule. The historic flight is expected in two or three months.

Other American satellites sent into orbit in the last five days were the Explorer IX polka dot balloon from Wallops Island, Va., and Discoverers XX and XXI from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. The Discoverer XX test was marred Tuesday when a malfunction prevented ejection of a capsule for recovery. This year also has seen the orbiting of the Samos II reconnaissance satellite and the recovery of Ham the space chimp after a brief rocket trip.

Star billing on Tuesday night's doubleheader goes to Transit III-B, the third such satellite sent into orbit as a forerunner of an operational network of space lighthouses which will provide ships, planes and submarines with an accurate, all-weather navigation system.

Transit III-B, a 36-inch ball, is a much advanced edition of the two earlier Transits. It is equipped with almost all the equipment which will be aboard operational Transits scheduled to be launched next year.

Call Thirty In Trial Of Weger

ry existed between state and county authorities during the long investigation before the arrest of Weger Nov. 17.

When he takes the stand — after repudiating his alleged confession.

Weger was a dishwasher at the park lodge when the women were bludgeoned to death while on a brief holiday.

The story he is hoping will stave off a death penalty verdict is that he was alone in a recreation room of the lodge when the three women were killed.

Also, McNamara said, Weger will testify four versions of the slaying he gave authorities were false, and that he made the statements under threats after long hours of continuous questioning.

Weger, a father of two, in on trial for the murder of Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50. The other victims were Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47, and Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, 50. All were neighbors in Riverside, a Chicago suburb.

Two witnesses for the state testified Tuesday they heard no threats when Weger related that he slew the women or later when he re-enacted the killings.

Dr. Meyer Kruglik of Chicago, a psychiatric consultant to the State Department of Public Safety, said he talked with the defendant a few hours after the alleged confession and re-enactment.

He testified Weger told him then that he had "slept for the first time in a long time" after confessing the slayings. He quoted Weger as saying he had "nightmares" after the triple killing.

Wayne Hess, a deputy sheriff, said the confession was made voluntarily without threats or intimidation.

JOBLESS CLAIMS IN SOUTHERN ILLINOIS TWICE OCT. TOTAL

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP) — State unemployment benefit claims in a 29-county area of Southern Illinois have more than doubled since October, a report showed Tuesday.

Edward L. Adams, area supervisor in Murphysboro, said January claims totaled 52,438 in the area compared with 25,000 in October 1960.

He said the high point last year was March with 46,000 claims. January 1960 claims totaled 37,000.

Adams said unemployment claims are running ahead of figures during the 1958 recession when the January figure was 51,370. High point in 1958 was April with 55,000.

The territory covered by Adams' office includes Randolph, Washington and Jefferson south through the state. It swings around Marion and Clinton counties to take in counties as far north as Lawrence.

Marion and Clinton counties are handled by the claim office in East St. Louis.

Adams said maximum relief payments for any size family are $50 a week. A family of four would get $42 in unemployment benefits from the state.

Adams said spring construction starts will relieve unemployment somewhat in his area but not as much as last year.

Perry Dawdys Observe 40th Wedding Date

PATTERSON—Mr. and Mrs. Perry Dawdy observed their 40th wedding anniversary Thursday, Feb. 16. She is the former Laura Nichols. They were married in Carrollton at the court house in 1921. They have spent their married life in Patterson and vicinity.

They are the parents of one daughter, Margaret, wife of Billy (Diz) McCarthy of White Hall and they have two grandchildren, David and Steven McCarthy of White Hall. No special observance was made of the occasion.

Mrs. Cora Bain was a Wednesday supper guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bain, and daughter Judy in observance of Mr. Bains' birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Kennedy of Canton, Mo., called on his grandfather, Charles Cowper, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilkinson Thursday afternoon, having been to White Hall to make arrangements for his father, Basil Kennedy's, funeral which will be held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the Dawdy Funeral Home in White Hall. His death occurred Feb. 15 at Hardin, Mont., where he was spending the winter with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fox, and family.

Mrs. Eula Ames of Bloomington spent Thursday night with her uncle, Lloyd Patterson.

Mrs. Donna Weible and children, who have been residing in the Bert Tankersley property west of town, have moved this week to the John Prindle house, west of the post office.

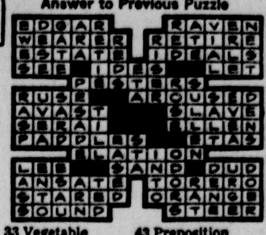

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lovelace and sons left Thursday for their home in Benson, Ariz., after several days' visit here with relatives.

Salary Talks To Wait For Federal Aid Bill; Dowland Resigns Post

The Board of Education, District 117, reluctantly accepted the resignation of J. Harry Dowland at a meeting Tuesday evening after hearing his letter read. Dowland stated that he would be entering the school and office supplies business on March 1 and felt there would be a possible conflict of interest. His resignation will become effective March 1.

Mr. Dowland has purchased Davis Ofifce Supply and expects to take over next month. He has served several terms on the board of education. His present term will run for two years.

The board later moved that a place on the ballot be designated for Dowland's unexpired term. Petitions for two regular vacancies plus the unexpired term are available at the office of the superintendent.

Halt Salary Talks

Negotiations for an adequate salary schedule were halted until the next regular meeting in March to determine the status of a proposed school aid bill in congress. Salaries of both teachers and secretaries are at stake. The finance committee has held several meetings with a tachers' committee to work out a suitable schedule.

The current salary schedule under consideration by the board would call for an increase of $140,000 for the present faculty and $5,000 for the secretaries. Plans are also underway to add three or four new teachers to the system to handle additional pupils.

The board authorized the administration to issue anticipation warrants in the amount of $100,000 to cover the March payroll.

Much of the meeting which ended shortly before midnight was devoted to a discussion of finance for schools on a state and national basis. The board completed a form issued by the Association of School Boards concerning policies and lobbying in state and national government.

First and second year teachers who are presently on probationary status will be reviewed at the next meeting. Second year teachers will go on tenure unless notified by March 31 that they are not to be retained. A complete report on all teachers concerned will be given at the March meeting.

The board also touched on the status of teachers who have or will reach the age of 65. Indications are that each person will be replaced when a competent teacher can be found.

The board authorized the appointment of a guidance and counseling position starting with the next school year in the high school. The move was taken to conform with requirements of the North Central Association. Further discussion on library facilities will be made later. The high school library does not meet minimum requirements of the association.

Which Witch?

A water hauling bill of approximately $100 per month brought about a discussion of water witching at the school board Tuesday evening. The state water survey shows no water available at the Murrayville school site. Bids and specifications will be given to contractors for an addition there within the next few days.

Anyone with the proper green peach sticks and the ability to witch water will be received with open arms by the board. Provided, of course, results could be the basis of the contract.

Chemistry equipment in the high school has been installed and in operation at the high school chemistry lab.

Plans for summer work to be done on buildings throughout the district are already underway. Reports will be received from principals concerning repairs to each school building.

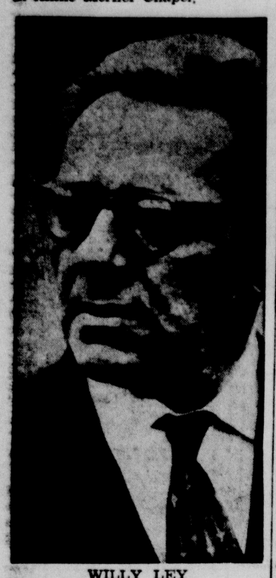

The board voted to authorize the Jacksonville Jaycees to hold a Miss Jacksonville Pageant in the high school auditorium on Sunday, May 14, if the local ministerial association approves the project. The proposed pageant would be held in the afternoon.

Polling places for the forthcoming school board election were adopted in a resolution calling for an election and the hiring of judges. Polling places will be: Lincoln, Washington, Franklin, South Jacksonville, Woodson and Murrayville schools.

The board adjourned to May 8 for the purpose of conducting further business and meeting with teachers of two departments.

Ley Will Speak On Space Topic At MacMurray

Willy Ley, world-renowned expert on rockets and space exploration, will speak at MacMurray College Thursday evening, Feb. 23, at 7:30 in Annie Merner Chapel.

WILLY LEY

His remarks on "The Conquest of Space" will be recorded to serve as a springboard for discussion at the upcoming Space Conference of Methodist Students, scheduled at the college for March 3-5.

Willy Ley, a pioneer in rocket research, helped organize experimental groups in Pre-Hitler Germany, which built and launched liquid fuel rockets when that science was practically unknown. He introduced to this group Wehrner von Braun, who later headed the project that created the German V-2 rocket and who today heads the Army project in Huntsville, Ala. Von Braun credits Ley with being his first tutor in rocket research.

Ley left Germany in 1935, following the advent of Hitler into power, and became a United States citizen in 1944.

Recently, Ley has received wide publicity for his outspoken belief that a woman should be selected as our first Astronaut, maintaining that the female of the species is beter equipped physically, mentally and spiritually, to meet the rigers of space isolation and travel.

While at MacMurray, Mr. Ley will hold a luncheon conference with science faculty members, will visit afternoon science and physics classes and will hold an interview with selected students.

The public is invited to attend the evening lecture.

IFWC Program Auditions Will Be Held Mar. 23

The Central Region, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, invites officers and members of all local clubs in the state to attend the Spring Program Audition Thursday, March 23, at Springfield in the Centennial Building, South Second street.

Receive Damages Resulting From Accident In '58

CARROLLTON — In the suit of Kenneth and Mary Lea Crabtree vs. Lois Cooke, which was heard before a jury Monday in Greene county circuit court with Judge Sam O. Smith of Girard presiding, the jury found in favor of the plaintiffs and against the defendant and assessed damages in the sum of $273.93 and costs.

The case grew out of an automobile accident which occurred September 27, 1958 on a road one and a half mile north of the Spanky bridge.

Harrisburg School Proposal Goes To Kerner

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Speaker Paul Powell's proposed appropriation of $4 million from the mental health fund for a Harrisburg school for mentally retarded children was sent by the Senate to Gov. Otto Kerner today.

The Senate voted 51-0 in favor of the proposal which Sen. Dwight Friedrich, R-Centralia, endorsed Wednesday. He had once disputed it.

Friedrich is the Senate sponsor of a plan to build a $11.5 million mental hospital at Centralia with general revenue or new mental welfare bond issue money. The 1959 Legislature authorized the construction of the Centralia unit but scarcity of funds had cast doubt on the chances of going ahead until a legal opinion indicated the bond issue funds could be used.

Because the Harrisburg unit's financing would come from the adequately supplied, earmarked mental health fund, there has been little obstacle to its progress outside the dispute between Harrisburg and Centralia boosters. Harrisburg was in the running for the $11.5 million unit until Centralia was awarded it. Then Harrisburg was awarded the smaller hospital.

Friedrich told the Senate the Harrisburg unit would provide beds for 320 children. The Centralia unit will have 750 beds. Neither will be completed for about two years.

Friedrich noted a waiting list of 1,900 mentally retarded children in Illinois and said, "for the first time in 100 years we will be doing something about it."

Kennedy had ordered prompt payment of GI dividends as a move to spur the lagging economy.

Approaches Century Mark

Andrew Siebring

One of Jacksonville's senior citizens, Andrew Siebring, will mark his 100th birthday anniversary on March 27. Mr. Siebring has been a resident of the Illinois Christian Home for the past 27 years and until seven years ago was very active in the upkeep of the home on Grove street.

Rather spry for a person approaching his 100th birthday, Mr. Siebring attends regular daily worship services in the downstairs lounge, and listens to his "talking book," a series of records for all of the books of the Bible.

Michigan to Kansas

Born in Michigan in 1861, the move to Kansas was one to find a new home on the plains of the Great West. The move was by covered wagon to a homestead near Wichita. "Twenty-five years on a Kansas homestead in those days seemed like a lifetime," he quipped.

Mr. Siebring recounted details of the grasshopper scourge two years in succession, 1872-3, numerous prairie fires and the ever present threat of wind erosion.

"When I became 21 I started the apprenticeship for carpentry and followed it for the next four years. After that I spent my life, except for a few bad years, following the trade," he said. He helped transform many of the then wilderness forts of the west into habital quarters for army personnel and dependents.

Back to Michigan, then to Illinois followed by his arrival at the Jacksonville home where he immediately began a program of repairs and upkeep for the entire grounds. One of his first projects was to repair the large columns on the front of the building which are still standing. He has made a number of pieces of furniture still in use and repaired hundreds more.

Want Katanga To Cooperate With UN; Join Union

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States is reported urging Belgium to pressure defiant President Moise Tshombe to bring Katanga Province into a federation of Congo states that would cooperate with the U.N. Congo force.

Informed sources said the United States also is pressing Belgium to keep her nationals from going to Katanga as mercenary soldiers for the army in Katanga Province, which Tshombe proclaimed an independent state last summer soon after the Congo won independence.

Tshombe Tuesday ordered all able-bodied persons in Katanga mobilized to oppose any effort to put into effect in his province the new Security Council resolution authorizing the United Nations to use force if necessary to prevent civil war. Tshombe's Belgian-officered army continued an offensive against rebel Baluba tribesmen in north Katanga.

Tshombe also rejected the Security Council's demand that Belgian military and political advisers quit the Congo. Such an exodus would strip his administration and army of key men. Tshombe said the Belgians would stay even if the Brussels government ordered them home.

However, in Elisabethville, the Katanga capital, many Belgians indicated they would listen to orders from Brussels.

Informants said Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold told his advisory committee on the Congo that he would ask Belgium to get Belgian military and political advisers out of the Congo in accordance with the resolution.

In Brussels Tuesday a spokesman for the Belgian Foreign Ministry said the Congolese authorities—not Belgium—had called in the Belgian military and political advisers and the Brussels government could not intervene. The spokesman said it was up to the Congolese authorities, including Tshombe, to order the Belgians to leave.

Authoritative sources said the United States also had offered helicopters to the Sudan to detect trucks that might try to smuggle arms through Sudanese territory to the pro-Communist rebel regime of Antoine Gizenga in the northeastern Congo. The Sudanese reportedly replied they did not need the helicopters.

Fred Baxter Dies At 85 In Mt. Sterling

MT. STERLING — Fred W. Baxter, 85, retired pharmacist, died at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night at the Whited Nursing Home here. For many years Mr. Baxter ran his own drugstore at Glen Elyn, Ill.

He was born in Brown county October 1, 1875, son of William W. and Sarah Ellen Hersman Baxter. He was married to Katherine Keyser and she died in October of 1958. They had no children.

Two sisters survive Mr. Baxter, Miss Mable and Miss Bertha Baxter, both residents at the Sunset Home at Quincy.

The body is at the Rounds funeral home here where services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Thursday in the Chapel. Rev. B. L. Weaver will officiate and interment will be made in Mt. Sterling cemetery.

Burglars Steal Safe; Bounces From Car

Moments after burglars took the safe of a New Berlin Shell Service Station Tuesday evening they lost it as the vault tumbled from their car east of New Berlin on route 36.

Sangamon county authorities later recovered the unopened safe and signaled area police to watch for an old model Hudson or Nash auto without license plates.

One subject was believed to have been left behind as the highjackers made their getaway. His whereabouts remained unknown as the search for the burglars continued.

Following the dinner, a program will be given by Dr. Laren Spear, former minister of the First Methodist church of Decatur. Dr. Spear will address the men and boys on "Shooting the Arrow of Life," illustrating his address with actual bows and arrows discussing archery as an interesting hobby. He will tell how bows and arrows are made and used and will give the boys an opportunity to use them during the program.

Tickets are now on sale in the church office and by members of the Couples' Class, who sponsors the event this year. Plans are being made to accommodate 150 men and boys.

Moisture Limits Of Stored Corn Change Mar. 1

The total bushels of corn under loans completed through the Morgan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office is now about 100,000 bushels more than the total amount sealed under last year's program.

Wallace T. Hembrough, office manager of the Morgan County A.S.C., stated that loans on corn will be available through the middle of May, 1961, and purchase agreements may be secured up until closing time the 31st of May.

However, anyone desiring a loan on corn where the eligibility might be doubtful because of moisture should request that it be checked this week as the requirements change March 1, 1961, Hembrough said.

Crib width
8 ft.	21%	19.5%
9 ft.	20%	18.5%
10 ft.	19%	17.5%
11 ft.	18%	16.5%
12 ft.	17%	15.5%

The moisture requirement for shelled corn is 14%. Wide cribs with proper ventilators will be figured at ½ width for moisture requirements. Round cribs—2/3 of diameter, or ½ diameter with ventilators.

The loan price is $1.08 per bushel with chance to earn 3c premium on delivery if the following items apply: Grade No. 2 or better, 1c premium; 14% or less moisture, 1c premium; 2% or less foreign material, 1c premium.

If interested, or additional information desired, contact the A.S.C. office, 308 East State street, Jacksonville, Ill.

To take advantage of present moisture requirements, loans must be completed by March 1.

January Bond Sales $196,775 In Morgan Co.

Morgan county residents purchased a total of $196,775, in series E and H United States Savings onds in the month of January, according to Arthur J. French and Frank Osborne Elliott of Jacksonville, general county co-chairmen of the Savings Bonds committee.

Sales in the state totaled $40,398,267, up 17.7% over sales for January 1960. It was the highest total for any month since January 1959, according to T. Merle Paul, state director of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division.

In the first month of this year, 10.7% of the state's annual quota of $374,800,000 was reached, and Illinois sales represented 8.8% of national sales which were $456,000,000.

85 Year Old Cass Resident Passes Away

George White, 85 year old Virginia resident, died at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday at Our Saviour's hospital where he became a patient Tuesday.

The body was taken to Massie funeral home. Arrangements are incomplete.

If you have a glass 1-quart measure, it's a good container in which to mix pancake batter.

Check Passer Sentenced To State Farm

State's Attorney Richard Mills cited the long record of numerous arrests and convictions extending back as far as 1943 in five other states including Tennessee, California, Nebraska, Texas and Washington.

Mills also filed information on non-support cases which will come before the court later.
